There Were Many Reasons for the Cold, The Thaw Was Expected, and So Is More Cold

There were two kinds of cold in Princeton last week and that doesn't mean "very cold" and "real cold."

Before we get into definitions, we might remind you that it slid to minus one (Fahrenheit) last Friday, with 48-m.p.h. wind gusts that helped push the wind-chill factor to minus 30. That means you FELT as though it were 30 below zero.

A scant 72 hours later--early morning this Tuesday--the temperature had risen 54 degrees, according to one local thermometer: from a flat zero, to a tropical 54.

"What we're having now," explained weatherman David Ludlum of Science Associates, unmuffling his muffler and hanging his windbreaker on a weather-vane, "is a delayed January thaw. Usually comes between January 20 and 24, and you get it two out of three years, but this year it's late."

Mr. Ludlum warned, however, that by the time you read this, it won't be thaw-time any more. He hopes you enjoyed the brief balm.

Now, back out into the cold.

Monday, January 19, it got down to two degrees above zero. No snow on the ground. No wind in the air.

"This is 'radiation cold,'" Mr. Ludlum says. "The heat radiates from the surface of the bare earth to outer space--no clouds to reflect the heat back down again. We had two degrees above zero, and that's as cold as you can get in central New Jersey without snow on the ground. It never gets below zero under these circumstances.

"Then, we had a couple of snows, one Tuesday and another Thursday. Only light storms, like the two other minor snows we've had so far, but snow on the ground, nevertheless."

And on Friday came the plunge. That cold was "advective cold," Mr. Ludlum says.

"Wind was blowing the cold in straight from Hudson Bay," he continues happily. "No radiation because there was snow on the ground and a cloudy sky, just that cold air rushing in. I got minus one on Riverside Drive, and most people had temperatures around zero.

What happened, he says, is that a small storm went up New England, and off Maine and Nova Scotia, stalled. The barometer dropped to somewhere below 29 inches.

THREE TRUCKS, 10 INCHES: In a scene more often found in northern New England, 10 inches of ice on Lake Carnegie easily support three trucks used Friday to scrape off snow for skaters' benefit.

Solutions Sought to Filling Vacancy on Township Committee As First Month of New Year Ends with Seat Still Unfilled

Gamely limping along under only four-fifths power, burdened with the heavy load of municipal budgeting, Township Committee would sure like to have its fifth team member back to help pull the load.

Mayor Jay Bleiman (Dem.) invited Committee member Elizabeth Hutter (Rep.) to his Tuesday press conference to talk about filling the seat. The two agree on at least one thing: the sooner the seat is filled, the better.

Republicans, including Mrs. Hutter, last week filed an appeal from Superior Court Judge George Y. Schoch's ruling that the empty seat had to be filled by appointment, and by appointment of a Democrat.

It seemed a long time between Judge Schoch's December 19 ruling and the filing of the appeal January 20. Why the delay? Did Democrats suspect Republicans of stalling?

"I don't think that's true," Mayor Bleiman said. "I would hate to think the two Republicans (Josie Hall is the other) are content to let it go along this way. I'm unhappy about the situation...."

"I am, too," Mrs. Hutter said.

She and Mayor Bleiman agreed that legal procedures, such as waiting for Judge Schoch's signature and mailing documents back and forth, plus winter holidays probably caused the delay. Judge Schoch, for example, didn't sign the order until January 5. Edward Meredith, attorney for the Republicans, received it Friday, January

16. Now, all parties are waiting for the transcript of the hearing, due sometime late this week.

The three-member Appellate Court will be asked to accelerate the case and combine it with the Republicans' appeal from an earlier ruling of Judge Schoch's, the November one in which he set aside the election.

Even if the court agrees to a speed-up, its calendar may be full. Mayor Bleiman said he hoped Committee will have full five-member power by the March 15 public hearing on the budget.

It all goes back to the broken voting machine in District 12, the lone vote it gave to candidate Abbot Low Moffat, and the victory it gave his opponent, Tod Peyton. Mayor Bleiman pointed out that if the officials in District 12 hadn't certified the vote as correct, a lot of the present trouble wouldn't have happened.

Mrs. Hutter and the Republicans have always wanted a special election, with voters choosing a Committee member for a full three-year term. If Judge Schoch's December ruling is upheld, the appointed member would serve only until November's elections. The judge said he found no authority in New Jersey's so-called "vacancy" law for a special election to fill a full term. Mrs. Hutter doesn't think the law gives the authority to require an appointment.

Would Republicans take the case to the state Supreme Court?

"I'd have to see," Mrs.

Hutter said. At first, Mrs. Hutter wasn't sure she wanted to join the Republicans' appeal, although she said she "deplored the delay" and wanted the appeal made.

Regarding Judge Schoch's ruling that the appointee must be the same party as the incumbent - Democrat, in this case - Mrs. Hutter said she felt it was illogical to fill the current vacancy according to the will expressed by voters three years before. She said on Tuesday that she was chiefly concerned with precedent. The Township is the first community in New Jersey to invoke the new "vacancy" law, and she said she should like the law spelled out clearly for the future.

Mayor Bleiman and the Democrats have always wanted the "appointment" route, pointing to the cost of campaigns and elections and the chance that only a few voters would bother to go through it again.

"We had a court ruling," he said, "By not abiding by it, the Republicans have caused this four-member Committee, which we may have for another month. I would have hoped the Republicans could have risen above this."

Can the Appellate Court be pressured to make haste? Mayor Bleiman said Committee has written the Court urging speed.

"It behooves everyone to apply as much pressure as possible, and it's up to Josie and me to push," Mrs. Hutter said. "I will call the judges myself, if I have to."

"There are other ways of pressuring judges," she added, but she declined to say what they might be.

FUNDS TO BE SOUGHT
For Projects in Township.
Five projects will be presented by the Township to the Federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) agency for a possible block grant of money.

In order of priority, the projects are: a community center for Princeton Community Village; completion of the north side of Route 206 opposite Community Park as a recreation area; purchase of the four acres that Benedict Yedlin lost, in order to bring the Mt. Lucas public housing project back to its original 14 acres; purchase of a 12-acre tract between Mt. Lucas and Bunn drive to serve as a play area for both the Yedlin and PCV projects and, finally, development of the Basin Park area on lower Alexander Street near the canal and Stony Brook.

That's the way Township Committee views the priorities. However, Committee's new consultant, Dr. Irving Goldberg, said HUD would establish its own priorities. HUD prefers projects that will benefit low-income and moderate-income people and the elderly, he said.

The line-up was agreed on during Committee's work session after Monday night's formal meeting, the second of two hearings required by HUD before pre-applications can be made.

Committee, consisting of only four members instead of the usual five because of the election problem, divided two on one of the projects. Mayor Jay Bleiman and Elizabeth Hutter both preferred purchase of the 12-acre tract, Josie Hall and Margaret Broadwater wanted the four acres for Yedlin. "To get things going," the mayor said, he agreed to give the Yedlin purchase higher priority.

At the hearing, Janet Pearson, executive director of the Council of Community Services, made four suggestions. Reminding Committee that the former Nassau Street and Quarry Street schools had "slipped through our fingers," she suggested acquiring either the whole Valley Road school building or leased space within it, as a community center.

She also proposed buying big old houses for conversion to what she said the British call "wardened flat-lets"; that is, small quarters for the elderly with someone on premises to keep an eye on the tenants.

Joint agreement with the Borough to pick up quarry park, and a study of all transportation in the community were her other proposals.

Unveiling the Princeton Historical Society's drawings of Basin Park, architect Alfred Busselle advocated a realignment of Alexander to take it slightly left of the Rusty Scupper restaurant.

Weather Report

"This is where we get our severest weather - a situation like that sets up a north wind from Hudson Bay and Quebec." Friday's zero readings were the lowest recorded here since 1968. Mr. Ludlum, incidentally, wasn't here for all the cold. He had gone south -- to Philadelphia. He delivered the Bicentennial lecture, "Benjamin Franklin and Meteorology in 1776", for the American Meteorological Society's meeting there.

Of course, few had predicted a cold winter. The Old Farmer's Almanac said January would be 1.8 degrees above normal. Mr. Ludlum himself provides the startling information that "heating degree days" this year are just about normal.

The term refers to the number of degrees below 65 that the day averages. If the average is 35 degrees, for example, that means 30.

"You should have one-half your hay left on Candlemas Day," says Old Farmer Ludlum. "That's February 2, Ground-hog day. In today's terms, that means you've spent just about half the money you're going to need to heat your house this winter."

A lot of those dollars were probably spent between January 1 and 24 when, according to the National

Skating Ends for a While
Friday's readings around zero, climaxing the longest string of sub-freezing temperatures Princeton has known in a decade or more, helped produce the first skating on Carnegie Lake in three years. It lasted over a week, but then disappeared with the thaw and the rain which arrived Monday. As the saying about New Jersey weather goes, if you don't like it, just wait: a new freeze was expected to arrive Wednesday. Skaters are advised not to make their own judgments, however - to be sure that any sharp temperature dip has been sufficient, call the Recreation Department for the answer. The number is 921-9480.

Weather Service, there was a 167 degree deficiency in the mean temperature - which is usually 33 degrees. This was offset, of course, by the warmest November in 100 years, preceded by a warm October.

"So far," Mr. Ludlum concludes, holding a finger up to the wind, "we haven't had a north-easter. That's what brings out the majors, the really big storms, and we haven't had one yet." "But that's all right," he says consolingly. "We still have all of February."

SCHOOLS LOSE AID
Cut $76,000. Princeton will get $333,700 in state aid, the school board learned Tuesday, but must pay 25 per cent of teachers' pensions, or $194,500, leaving only $139,000 for the year. This is $76,000 less than the amount expected.

Board members Tuesday expressed bitterness that the state has not cut aid for private schools. Princeton has administrative costs related to private schools, such as the ordering of certain textbooks.

J.B. Smith protested remarks from "certain politicians in the town" characterizing the board as "irresponsible" in budgeting. (See story, opposite page.)

The board announced it will hire an outside investigator to probe grade changes in the high school. Superintendent Philip E. McPherson protesting the move, declared again he believed personnel

(chiefly Richard Saldon in PHS guidance) handled the matter "in a clearly competent and responsible manner."

He has asked the board to let him know, in writing, of possible staff involvement with board members, citizens or other staff on grade changes in ways that might violate either law or contract. Grade changing, he declared in a memo to the board, was "blown completely out of proportion by a few people using it for motivations not entirely clear to me." Board member J.B. Smith said he agreed "to some extent."

Board president Winthrop Pike announced the board will interview "educational consultants" and choose one. Asked by Director of Student Services Charles Huchet when he would "disclose to the public" the reasons for such a move, Mr. Pike would only say "shortly."

Announcing a public planning meeting for next Tuesday, 8:15 p.m. at Valley Road) Mr. Pike said the agenda would include a brief closed session on grievances and "pending litigation." He declined to elaborate on this also.

MEETINGS....
In the "Sunshine." Three special meetings have been scheduled in the Township and announced to the public in accordance with the Sunshine law.

Committee will hold a special budget discussion meeting this Thursday at 8 p.m. in Township Hall. The announced Saturday morning meeting - 9:30 a.m. - to talk over joint agency matters with the Borough, has been moved from Township to Borough Hall. It will be a joint meeting with Borough Council.

The Township Environmental Commission will hold a special meeting next Tuesday to discuss revisions of the site plan review ordinance. No action is expected. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

Sabbath Town Meeting Shows That Taxpayers Do Not Want to Curtail Many Local Services

Town meeting, Princeton style, Sunday afternoon, and a standing-room only audience talking about the budget in Borough Hall.

Late-comers tried to find an empty peg for windbreaker and fur hat, pulled in padded conference chairs from the next door conference room — and sat more comfortably than Council itself. Kids scampered around, discovered the basement vending machine, were shushed by parents and paid no attention at all to the sharp debate on schools.

"Is the average American incapable of stating anything briefly?" asked one exhausted customer, leaving early.

Like the first budget audience ten days before, this one was chiefly concerned about school and county budgets and apparently not much interested in cutting back on local services.

Promptly, three school board members jumped Council member Murray Medvin who had previously called the board "irresponsible" for not following Council advice on budget cuts.

"It was an outrageous statement," declared Dietrich Meyerhofer. "You don't know what you're talking about. The board DID try to make cuts in administration but found itself unable to because of contractual arrangements. That 70 cents increase in school taxes — half of it is due to the new T. & E. cost-sharing, the other half to decrease in state aid."

Revenue. Tuition Loss. "The average citizen doesn't realize the continuing erosion of state revenue and loss of tuition over the years," said board member Joan Doig.

The third board member, Robin Wallack, said Mr. Medvin, Council's board liaison, came to only one budget meeting and left early. Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said Mr. Medvin had only been in that job one month.

Mr. Medvin was not downed.

"I'd like to repeat my statement and emphasize that the school board IS unresponsive to the advice given by both municipalities. Two weeks ago, you were still advertising for a director of staff services, and you still have a personnel director when you're losing teachers, not hiring them. Your administration is top-heavy. Your extra-pay-for-extra services to teachers are bonuses and totally unnecessary."

Mayor Cawley said Mr. Medvin's remarks were "a pretty accurate representation", but omitted Council's expressed desire that no teachers be eliminated.

Martin P. Lombardo, on Council, cited the chain of blame — town blames county blames state blames Washington, and suggested people set up a network of communication and stop calling each other names.

With Gus Escher, Council finance chairman, Mayor Cawley and Mr. Lombardo had been in Trenton the day before talking about the county's budget. Mayor Cawley explained that the county is required to support state services like welfare and the courts.

"The legislature passed a bill allowing judges to stay in the pension fund making no contributions of their own, and the county must pick that up," the mayor said, "Freeholders are upset about these things, and the Borough may join them in making a stand."

The Borough has urged a lower county salary increase than eight percent, he said, but the county must deal with unions. He concluded by saying he wasn't very optimistic about chances for a significant county budget decrease.

Local Budget Brighter. The local budget is brighter. Council thinks services can be continued and the budget kept stable. Mayor Cawley observed ruefully that the very success of some institutions — library and recreation — poses difficulties. For example, it was the public that asked the library for Sunday afternoon service.

The Loop bus took some sniping, and Council member Nelson van den Blink told the audience that Council was "not of one mind" about the Loop.

Larry Dupraz, from the audience, said scornfully that the bus was "disgusting! a blue and white monster traveling around town empty. Better buy fire equipment." Mr. Dupraz is a fireman.

He also protested acquisition of the quarry site as a park. It would be better to expand Lloyd Terrace, the elderly housing project that adjoins the park site, he suggested.

A detailed presentation, involving demography, environmental considerations and the philosophy of land use, was made by Robert McCloskey, president of the Quarry Park Association. He wants the Borough to explore block grants through the Community Development Act, as the Township is doing. His Association is afraid that if townhouses are built on the site, other owners in the neighborhood will want to sell their rental properties for higher-cost homes.

Mr. McCloskey received hearty applause.

Mayor Cawley said Tuesday that because the Commissioner of Environmental Protection is sick, the Borough's approved Green Acres application for Quarry Park purchase hasn't been signed. He expects the signature either this week or next, he said.

When one member of the audience pointed out that a park would produce no taxes for the Borough's bank account, while townhouses would, another remarked, "Get the land turned into an industrial park with no school kids, if money is all you want."

"No matter how you whittle," said Minot C. Morgan, who was Borough mayor himself once, "I urge you NOT to cut the budget on local services." Applause. Then he added,

"We should all be in the State House telling the Senate to get off its tail and pass an income-tax."

The Borough's final budget will be introduced Tuesday, February 10.

MORE CARS SKID
In Township. Skidding accidents in January continue to pile up at a record rate in the Township. There were 10 more last week, six on Tuesday alone.
Leroy B. Smith, 56, of 45 Leigh Avenue, was driving a Township sanding truck Tuesday on Pretty Brook Road when it began to slide on a grade. It skidded off the road and tipped over.
Mr. Smith was treated at Princeton Medical Center for a minor leg injury.

William G. Cook, 27, of Monmouth Junction, received head contusions following an accident late Thursday evening on The Great Road.
Mr. Cook told police he was traveling about 40-45 miles an hour when he saw headlights in the distance. He thought at the time the headlights were moving and would get out of his way. Too late, he realized they belonged to an Elizabethtown Water Company truck parked at the edge of the roadway. The driver, Louis Balestrieri of Lawrenceville Road, was in the process of repairing a water leak on the roadway, police said.

Open Letter to a Hog

*If I were a groundhog
All snuggled up tight,
I'd stay in my Borough
'Til spring's early light.
If I lived in the Township,
I'd stay in my nook
'Til I heard a robin

Smart Ground Hogs may listen to these words of wisdom on Monday and, of course, if they do, spring may come a little earlier this year. Any hogs who caught a whiff of last week's zero temperatures have probably already made up their minds to stay below.

The belated January thaw, which sent the thermometer almost all the way to 60 before a return to the freezing level set in, may just have been what skaters need. Temperature in the 20s, forecast for midweek, will provide the proper surface for Carnegie Lake.

January is expected to bow out in normal fashion -- somewhat below freezing at night, readings in the high 30s during the day. The coldest month of the year is yet ahead, but it is hardly likely to top January's accomplishments in this respect.

This is Princeton

instead of sharply right as now. "That road is a disaster area!" he said.

On his sketch, Alexander would bow gently southward to meet the present sharp elbow of the road in West Windsor in such a way that the elbow would be straightened.

Develop the Houghton-Castoro Open Space land for canoeing -- it lies between canal and Stony Brook -- and build a new, safe bridge across the brook at Mercer Road, Mr. Busselle recommended.

"Stony Brook bridge is falling down," he said gloomily.

Dr. Goldberg observed that road work is very expensive, and usually accepted by HUD only if it's a brief part of general development. He also repeated his comment that HUD likes projects benefitting the low-income family.

"Not many poor people own canoes," he said.

The problem with the north side of Route 206 is that the Township has had Bureau of Outdoor Recreation money for a year and must spend it in the next year or lose it. Dr. Goldberg says HUD won't fund the project if it has already been started. If the Borough decides it can't afford to go along, Mayor Bleiman speculates, maybe the Township can make a case for extending the Federal grant long enough for the HUD application to be approved.

It takes about a year to process these applications through to final victory, Dr. Goldberg told Committee.

Other proposals included that of Katherine McGrath, chairman of the Township's Citizens Advisory Committee on Housing, to buy land for future housing projects, and a suggestion from last week's hearing to do more with community garden-plots.

Elmer Greey, from the audience, urged Committee to give top priority to projects "where we already own the land."

received facial lacerations Saturday when he ran into the rear of a car on Princeton-Kingston Road turning onto Carnegie Road.

Mr. Freda told police that a car coming in the opposite direction had splashed slush on his windshield, causing him to lose sight of the road. The mishap took place shortly after 5 p.m.

Early last week in the Borough, Theodore K. Rabb, 293 Hartley Avenue, went into a skid on Hodge Road. His car slid on the snow and ice, jumped the curb, knocked down two garbage cans in front of 31 Hodge and then slammed sideways into a large tree.

Mr. Rabb complained of a pain in his left leg but refused medical attention. Ptl. William Hunter investigated.

CAR CATCHES FIRE

While Warming Up. Thursday afternoon, a graduate student started his 1974 sports car in a garage at 197 Witherspoon Street and then returned to his apartment while the engine warmed up.

When he returned, the car was on fire. Ptl. Mario Musso of the Township, first on the scene, and Ptl. Gerald Patterson and Sgt. Robert Anderson of the Borough put out the blaze with powder extinguishers from their patrol cars. Two fire trucks also responded.

Police attributed the fire to gasoline-related causes.

BOROUGH LANDLORDS!

Form to Fill Out. Owners of residential rental property in the Borough must file with the Rent Leveling Board an annual report on current rent, history of increases and so on. Deadline is February 15. The report must be made on a form which is available in the Rent Leveling office in Borough Hall, or in the Administrator's office.

One report must be made for each rental unit that comes under the Borough's ordinance. Copies have been mailed to landlords, but owners who have not received copies should pick them up in Borough Hall.

The new form is required by last year's amendments to the rent leveling ordinance. It does not replace any of the forms that must be filled out before any rent increase can be effective.

The rent leveling office is open Tuesdays and Thursdays between 10 and 2. The telephone is 921-7551 and the Rent Leveling Coordinator is Ethel Leighti. The Administrator's office is open daily, 9-5.

FIVE CARS VICTIMS

Of Car Thieves. Five cars parked in the Township last week were entered by thieves.

While Kathleen Pelley, 779 Princeton-Kingston Road, was ice skating on Lake Carnegie Sunday afternoon, someone smashed a side window to enter her car parked on a field near Washington and Faculty roads. Taken was her purse, which contained $5; the purse was valued at $15.

The previous day, a wallet containing $50 was stolen from an unlocked car parked in the same area near the Lake. The wallet was later found on John Street minus the money.

Police identified the owner as Eliot A. Daley, 159 Hickory Court.

Arnold Proner of New Canaan, Ct., an employee of NBC Sports, had a shoulder bag taken from the front seat of his unlocked car in a Jadwin Gym lot.

The bag contained $400 in travelers' checks, small hand tools, eyeglasses and an electric shaver. Total value: $540. Mr. Proner placed the theft between 7:30 Friday

Escher to White House

Gus Escher, Borough Council member, whose party affiliations are 180 degrees from those of President Gerald Ford, went to the White House Monday afternoon for a Presidential budget briefing. That's the Federal budget -- not the Borough budget.

Mr. Escher said he had a specific question: what about President Ford's transportation subsidy plan for a 50-50 division between operating expenses and capital improvements?

Traditionally, federal subsidies have been all for operating expenses. The shift would mean that Mercer Metro, which Princeton hopes will take over the Loop bus, would only have $700,000 to run its system, instead of $1.4 million as before.

How did Mr. Escher get to the White House? As director of research and development for the New Jersey Housing Finance Agency, he has a lot of Federal -- and White House -- contacts. So, in his work with multiple sclerosis public relations, does Borough Council member Martin Lombardo.

morning and 9:30 that night.

A $50 battery was stolen from a car last week left at Nemeth Motors on Route 206. The theft was discovered by an employee when he attempted to start the car. Police said the cables had been cut. The car is owned by Robert Iola, Inc. of 1101 State Road.

A rear window was smashed to enter the car of Kenneth McGregor of Magie Apartments off Faculty Road. The glove compartment was ransacked but police report that nothing appears to have been taken. The entry took place over the weekend while the car was parked in a Magie lot.

Four In Borough. Borough police reported four car break-ins, two involving cars parked in the rear of Quadrangle Club on Prospect Avenue.

A citizens' band radio, tape deck and tapes with a combined value of $385 were taken from a student's car on Saturday after the window on the driver's side of his 1975 model had been broken.

Also during the weekend, a spare tire, wheel and jack were removed from a car owned by a Township resident. A vent window had been forced to enter the car, also parked behind Quadrangle Club.

A $120 stereo tape player was taken from a student's car parked in the Theological Seminary lot off College Road West. A window on the driver's side was broken and Chief Michael Carnevale observed: "This seems to be the usual 'MO.'"

While on car patrol early Monday morning, Sgt. Thomas Michaud and Ptl. David Alston noticed the rear window broken out of a car parked in the Park Place lot.

An investigation revealed that the owner, a Park Place resident, had lost an AM-FM stereo player and two tapes.

SKATING PARTY SET

By Girl Scouts. To benefit their camp equipment fund, Girl Scout troops in Princeton have arranged an ice skating party to be held at the rink at Princeton Day School on Saturday from 6:30 to 8.

Junior Troop 635, under the leadership of Mrs. Sallie Jesser and Mrs. Barbara Forman, will provide refreshments. For ticket information, call Princeton Association Chairman Mrs. Sally Easter, 924-2324.

Another Viewpoint.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
In not presenting a balanced view, the coverage of the internal problems of the Princeton Community Democratic Organization in your newspaper (TOWN TOPICS, January 22) was misleading to readers, and a disservice to the persons who have agreed, if elected, to be officers of the organization.

As someone who has been an active member of P.C.D.O. since its beginning, the problem of involving all segments of the population in our activities, I can assure you, has seriously been discussed many times under the leadership of many Presidents. I would also like to point out that Jan Schneider has served as President and during her tenure the problem was given serious consideration, and was met no more or less successfully than under other Presidents. It is not an easy problem to solve, and is hardly peculiar to Princeton. Furthermore, and regrettably, although the Borough participants like to tell the Township participants that we're (the Township population) all one class; in fact, this is untrue and although the numbers are different, the problem is the same.

The qualifications of the three top officers for the new slate are outstanding. Fred Bohen, Didi Nini, and Mary Wisnowsky have participated in all levels of party activity. All three have served at the grass roots level as County Committeepersons. Didi Nini and Mary Wisnowsky have worked on many campaigns...local, county and congressional, have made casseroles for fund raisers, have addressed envelopes and made hundreds of phone calls. Fred Bohen has twice been the Democratic candidate for the Congressional seat from this district.

Having been a member of the nominating committee in the past and knowing the difficulties of finding qualified people to serve and make the commitment of time necessary to carry out the duties involved...I, for one, think we're very lucky Democrats.

Guidelines Suggested.

To the Editor:

After reading with dismay an article headlined "Suggestions Sought on Use of Federal Funds" (TOWN TOPICS, January 22, 1976), nothing came to mind. However, may I suggest some qualifications for any project that may be proposed?

If it doesn't have to be mowed, fed, painted, repaired, supervised, or guarded, I'm all for it.

2 SPEAKERS STOLEN

From Tiger Inn. Two stereo speakers valued at $240 were stolen over the weekend from a wall at Tiger Inn, 48 Prospect Avenue. Police said that the name "Tiger Inn" had been burned into the rear wooden frame of each speaker.

Between 7:30 and 8:30 Monday night while he was working in the lower level of the Unitarian Church on Cherry Hill Road, Marvin Reed, 21 Maple Street, was the victim of a coat thief.

Police said that Mr. Reed had hung his $100 coat up in another room. When he returned, it was missing, plus $50 in cash and a checkbook. Ptl. James Vandermark is investigating.

HOME IS ENTERED

On Devereux Avenue. The home of Jan Yu Hsu, 416-B Devereux Avenue, was entered and ransacked Friday evening between 6 and 11.

Taken were a television set, portable sewing machine and slide projector with a combined value of $390. Police said when Mr. Hsu returned home he discovered his kitchen window open. Ptl. David Wilbur is investigating.

There was an unsuccessful attempt last week to enter the Tastebud Luncheonette, 382 Nassau Street.

Sgt. Robert Anderson reported that although glass in the front door had been broken, an attempt to enter was unsuccessful because of the type of lock on the door.

SUSPECT ARRESTED

Charged with TV Thefts. Charles H. Register Jr., 26, of Maple Terrace was arrested last week on Witherspoon Street by two Borough detectives.

They had warrants charging him with the break-in and theft of four television sets a week ago from a Princeton University Store warehouse and with contempt of court. He was released the same day.

DRIVE AT 94 PERCENT
Fund Still Needs Gifts. Officials of the 1975 United Fund-Red Cross campaign announced this week that the drive will close officially on Saturday. Dr. Aleck Borman, chairman, urged everyone who has not yet given to send in a gift immediately to the campaign office, P.O. Box 1152, Princeton.

Dr. Borman also announced that the campaign total now stands at slightly over 94.2 percent with more expected. He urged all to give so that all 20 beneficiary services can receive their full allocations for 1976. He also thanked all who have given to date and said that this campaign has been one of the most successful in the greater Princeton area.

Plans have also been made for the Fund's annual meeting and awards dinner to be held on February 25 at a location to be announced. New officers and trustees of the Fund will be elected, but plaques and award citations will be presented to corporations and employee groups. The public is invited to this annual affair, for which invitations are being mailed this week.

MEETINGS SCHEDULED
By Hospital on Feb. 23. Election of seven trustees and revisions to corporate by-laws will be voted upon February 23 during annual and special meetings of the Medical Center at Princeton.

Scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in the hospital, they will be open to residents holding membership in the Center Corporation. A "State of the Medical Center Address" will be presented by the chairman of the board and the president.

The nominees for seven seats on the Board as submitted by the nominating committee include incumbents:

John F. Hoff, III, President and Chief Executive Officer, First National Bank of Princeton; Anthony J. Maruca, Vice-President for Administrative Affairs, Princeton University; and Dr. David J. Rose, Chairman of the Department of Obstetrics & Gynecology at the Medical Center.

Nominated for initial terms are: Dr. Thomas P. Cortelyou, Chairman, Department of Emergency Services; Peter O. Lawson-Johnston, Chairman of the Board of the Guggenheim Foundation; Edward R. Farley, Jr., Chairman of the Board, The Atlas Corporation; and Philip D. Reed, Jr., Director, S.B. Penick & Co.

Individuals who contributed $5 or more to the Medical Center in 1975, as well as all life members, are entitled to vote on both board elections and by-law changes.

TALENT POOL SOUGHT
By West Windsor Schools. The West Windsor-Plainsboro School District is calling on residents of all ages to share their experiences and expertise with students through the formation of a Community Talent Pool.

A committee has been formed under the chairmanship of Myra Hochman, president of the West Windsor-Plainsboro PTA, to assist the Board of Education in formalizing such a program. Representing the schools are Thelma Long, Dutch Neck School; Dot Tipton and Ray McCarthy, WW-Plainsboro High School; Joan Wright, Maurice Hawk School; Kirstein Fleisher, Wicoff School; and Kay Gross, District Media Specialist. Representing the community are Janet Butcher, Ruth Finkelstein, Janet Savin and Ruth Sawyer.

As a first step, a survey form has been mailed to every household in the district. The completed forms should be returned by February 1 to be organized for the teachers' use. The Community Talent Pool Committee is looking not only for professional talent but also for members of the community with hobbies or other interests to share and 799-1239 and Myra Hochman, 799-1257.

FIVE ARE HONORED
Endowed Chairs Filled. Five members of the Princeton University faculty have been appointed to endowed professorships by action of the University's Board of Trustees, effective February 1.

Three of the appointments, in economics, English and Spanish, are to newly-endowed chairs; the remaining two, in chemistry and physics, fill vacancies in long-established professorships.

The chairman-designate of the Physics Department, Dr. Val L. Fitch, 52, will fill the Cyrus Fogg Brackett Professorship of Physics. Dr. Fitch, whose research in high energy physics has challenged some of the fundamental equations upon which all present understanding of nature is based, was a winner in 1968 of the Ernest Orlando Award of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission "for meritorious contributions to the field of atomic energy."

Professor of Spanish Edmund L. King, 62, will be the first incumbent of the Finkelstein, 799-0759; Janet Walter S. Carpenter, Jr. Savin, 799-2791; Ruth Sawyer,

DRAMA IN REHEARSAL
At Lawrenceville School, "Inherit The Wind," the successful Broadway and television dramatization of the controversial Scopes trial, will be presented by the Periwig Club of The Lawrenceville School on Friday and Saturday evenings, February 6 and 7, at 8:30 in the Kirby Arts Center.

First presented in 1955, it was a sell-out for 20 months on Broadway. The actual Scopes case, on which this play is based, was tried in Dayton, Tennessee in the summer of 1925. John Scopes became the center of the controversy because he taught Darwin's theory of evolution to his pupils. Excitement over the trial rose to fever pitch when two outstanding champions of the opposing views entered the battle: the famous Chicago attorney Clarence Darrow for the defendant and the three-times nominee of the Democratic party for the Presidency, William Jennings Bryan, for the prosecution.

The cast of veterans is headed by Jim Curley and Dave Langley in the roles of the two lawyers. Rob Reinalda will step into the part of Bertram Cates, first played on Broadway by Princeton's Karl Light, while the role of E.K. Hornbeck will be portrayed by John Poulson. Mary Ann Duffy of the Hun School and Mrs. Jean Stephens will play Rachel Brown and Mrs. Brady.

The play is directed by Peter Candler. William Stanard is the production advisor and D.C. Thiel is in charge of the scenery.

Tickets for both performances are free; however reservations are needed for Saturday night and may be obtained at The Jigger Shop, Lawrenceville, 896-0620. Seats for the Friday performance are on a first-come, first served basis.

AUDITIONS SCHEDULED

By Dance Co-Op. The Dance Co-Op of Princeton will hold auditions for its performing company Saturday at 12:30 at its studios in the Parish House of the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church. The auditions will conclude Open House Week for which a Fun Fair and demonstration for children will be held from 10 to 12:30 Saturday.

Five new classes for young people and adults will begin the week of February 9 for ten weeks and supplement the continuing program of instruction. For children in grades 3-6, a modern dance class will be taught by Gail Kaplan on Mondays from 4:45-5:45.

Beginning Ballet, taught by Linda Kessler, is offered Tuesdays from 10-11:30. Also on Tuesdays are a Teen Workshop with Esther Seligmann, an ungraded class emphasizing choreography and the building of a junior performing company.

"1776" A-Comin'
This Thursday is opening night for the P.J. & B. musical, "1776," and all those who want to see the Declaration of Independence signed on McCarter's stage better hurry because tickets are selling as fast as "Poor Richard's Almanac."

Curtain-time is 7:30. For the subsequent evening performances, it will be 8:30. That's for this Friday and Saturday. Saturday matinee and the added Sunday matinee are 2:30.

Mary Alice Witte is Abigail Adams and D'Arcy Achziger is Martha Jefferson. Milton Lyon has directed everybody.

Beginning Modern Dance, taught by Esther Seligmann and Peggy Stack, is a basic course in the Wigman-Graham and Limon traditions.

Jazz is offered on Thursdays from 9:30-11 with Trudi Zelikson. Information about the new classes may be obtained at the Dance Co-Op, 924-9390 or from Linda Kessler, registrar, 466-3718.

scholarship at the Ailey school in New York, and the chance of full membership in the company.

About 100 dance students signed up for the Ailey master classes, given during the company's stay in Princeton at the studios of the Princeton Ballet Society. Mr. Ferguson attended a jazz class, and afterwards attended one of the evening performances of the Alvin Ailey company at McCarter. While he was waiting in the lobby for a friend after the performance, someone asked him how to get back-stage. A veteran of four Triangle shows and two P.J. & B. musicals, Mr. Ferguson not only knew the way but was happy to follow it himself, and went along with the questioner.

Back stage, Miss Spurlock spotted him. "You're the man I want to see!" she exclaimed, "I told Alvin about you."

Mr. Ferguson was then introduced to Mr. Ailey who invited him to join the company's warm-up class at McCarter before the following night's performance. And then — the scholarship.

First Lesson Here. Jeff Ferguson is a native of Miami. He says he's been dancing all his life, but he never had a lesson until he came to Princeton. In the first semester of his freshman year, he joined Ruth Langridge's modern dance class in the Physical Education department. The next semester, he enrolled in Ballet Society dance classes. Joan Lucas spotted him immediately during auditions for "Fiddler on the Roof" and promptly cast him as lead dancer in the bottle dance.

Auditions Scheduled

The Mercer College Theatre will hold open auditions for its annual spring musical on Wednesday and Thursday, February 4 and 5, at 7 in the theatre building on the West Windsor campus.

The play is "The Boy Friend", a perennial favorite which lightheartedly spoofs the romantic and social conventions of England during the roaring twenties. Those interested in singing, dancing or acting roles, as well as positions on the technical and production staff, are invited.

THAT LUCKY BREAK: Jeff Ferguson, Princeton University senior, has won a full scholarship to the Alvin Ailey School as a result of his participation in Ailey master classes at the Ballet Society studios.

Moving into Triangle Club shows, he established what might be a record: he toured with the show in each of his four years at Princeton.

In the summer, at home in Miami, he studied ballet, jazz and tap. Sophomore year at Princeton, he received a scholarship from Audree Estey of the Princeton Ballet Society, studying ballet with her, modern with Mrs. Langridge and jazz with Mrs. Lucas. At the University, he studied dance with Ze'eva Cohen in the department of theatre and dance.

In June, 1974, he auditioned for the modern dance division of the Princeton Ballet Company and was accepted. He has appeared with them in University Chapel services, at local churches and in public school presentations. He has also performed in concert with the Princeton University Dancers.

Although Mr. Ferguson planned on law school or graduate business school, his career plans may be undergoing a slight program change.

In Princeton

BICENTENNIAL MARKED
In Concert Next Week. In celebration of the Bicentennial, Shirlee Emmons, soprano, will present a concert of vocal music by American composers, representing the Founding Years, the Sentimentalists, the American Impressionists, Folk Song Arrangements by 20th Century Americans, the 20th Century Classicists and Contemporary Music (three sonnets by Miriam Gideon). She will be accompanied by Stanley Sonntag, pianist. The concert will be held Friday, February 6 at 8:30 in Woolworth Center.

A voice teacher at Princeton for the past ten years, Miss Emmons is a graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music. She is the recipient of many awards, including a Fulbright. She has performed on numerous occasions in the U.S. and abroad and created the title role in Gian Carlo Menotti's opera "Maria Golovin" in Spolato. Miss Emmons and Mr. Sonntag have collaborated on the editing and rearranging of the first American Ballad Opera written in 1767 in Philadelphia which has been accepted for publication by Carl Fisher. The concert, sponsored by The Friends of Music, is free and open to the public.

OFFICERS ELECTED
By Barbershop Singers. The Princeton Chapter of the Society of Barbershop Singers, S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., installed its officers for 1976 at a dinner for members, their wives and friends at the Elks Lodge in Blawenburg. They are Ray Hancock, president, and Art Lockwood of Trenton, administrative vice-president; Jim Dishner of Lebanon, program vice-president; Nick Tancordo of Trenton, secretary and Norm Jackson of Princeton, treasurer.

Mr. Jackson has been appointed Area Counselor for all of the barbershop singing chapters in the Jersey Shore Area of the Society. Board members at large include Morris Mayers and Bob Schmidt of Princeton and Frank Pinto of Trenton. Distinguished service awards were presented to chorus director John Yates, treasurer Jackson and Bulletin Editor Mayers.

The chorus and quartets plan to commemorate the Bicentennial Year by performing at patriotic ceremonies, as well as entertaining at hospitals, nursing homes, senior citizen groups, retirement communities, civic organizations and social functions. They meet to rehearse old songs and learn new ones every Tuesday night at the Princeton Methodist Church. Men who enjoy singing with congenial neighbors are invited to audition for membership in the Chapter.

News of the Theatres

"Cuckoo's Nest" is well worth being put through the wringer.

Based on Ken Kesey's best-selling chronicle of a boisterously free spirit who gleefully disrupts the ordered apathy of a lunatic asylum, the message of the film — that society's apparent misfits are potentially more sane than those who would keep them under lock and key — is somewhat dated. But though that premise would provoke few raised eyebrows, the film, as directed by Milos Forman, is frequently riveting. Its tragicomic relevance boils down to the individual's spirit's need to soar away from repression of any sort.

As Randle P. McMurty, a cheerful, brawling petty convict who feigns insanity so that he can spend most of his six-month stretch under observation at the state asylum instead of straining his back on a work farm, Jack Nicholson's highly charged performance will probably earn him another shot at next year's Oscar for Best Actor.

Nicholson soon becomes the rallying point for his fellow patients and the result is an immediate clash with the indomitable Head Nurse whose dogmatic and moralistic approach to her patients is 180 degrees away from Nicholson's free-wheeling solutions.

Nicholson's reign as king of the asylum is vivid but short-lived; the film ends on a despairing, numbing note. Before that, however, there are two noteworthy sequences of power. The best has Nicholson turning the ward into an unruly cheering section sitting around the blank screen of a television set and going increasingly wild as he gives a play-by-play description of a phantom ballgame. A fascinating film.

PLAYHOUSE

Lucky Lady. Why not take three of today's most popular film stars, pick a situation that throws them together and then let them wisecrack and play off one another just for sheer entertainment. It's been done hundreds of times by Hollywood, not always with satisfying results, but when the chemistry is right, the results can be...well as good as they are in "Lucky Lady." Film companies traditionally save their best pictures for the Christmas holiday — or the ones they think audiences will most enjoy — and "Lucky Lady" opened around the country on Christmas Day.

The major characters are three, all of them very good indeed. Liza Minelli is Claire Dobie, a 1920s rumrunner, aided and abetted by Burt Reynolds and Gene Hackman. Both are in love with Claire. In running booze up the California coast, they have brushes with the Coast Guard and "The Mob," which frowns on free-wheelers.

It's a breezy, carefree, frothy existence as they reach out for all the gusto they can, and who cares if the pace falters at times or if the characters sometimes take themselves seriously. In fact, the producers were so caught up in the film's joie de vivre that they changed the original ending in which Reynolds and Hackman were killed, and installed the traditional happy ending.

PLANTS AND CLOTHES
Under One Roof. Today, a large percentage of the population wears denim in one form or another, and the chances are also good that this same percentage has more than one houseplant at home to which they give tender loving care.

Diane Detruelo is such an ardent fan of both denim and houseplants that she decided to surround herself with them on a daily basis by opening Greens and Jeans of Pennington. She admits that the combination is a bit unusual, but she likes the curiosity her new store has created. One person even asked, "What are the greens, lettuce?"

Located in a charming 175-year old house, the plants do not have a perfect nursery environment, but this is just what Diane wanted. She said, "Here they are already houseplants. They have time to adjust to the light and temperature of a home, thus reducing the shock (often a killer by itself) of being moved to your house."

One room is totally filled with plants attractively displayed on shelves, natural wood trellises and a white cart. The choice ranges from needlepoint ivy and jade plants to hanging baskets of fluffy ruffle ferns or piggy-back plants.

Variegated Pineapple. Most intriguing was a variegated pineapple, part of the Bromeliad family. Diane told us that it actually produces the fruit, which she has tried and found to be delicious.

You'll also find lots of cacti, some in dish gardens; a large Phoenix palm; Dieffenbachia; and Dracaena to name just a few. Accessories are here too, such as soil, pots, leaf shine, fertilizer and several paperback guides to indoor gardening.

Lately there has been great interest in terrariums filled with sand scenes, and Greens and Jeans has quite a few designs, flowers or landscapes. Diane has planted cacti in most of these because the shallow roots will not work down into the design. And if you would like to try your own hand at design, the supplies are here too.

Plants range in price from 49 cents to about $20, and this week Greens and Jeans is offering a $2 saving on purchases over $10 with the coupon from their advertisement.

As anyone who wears jeans knows, there are many styles and variations in detail. Some have waffle yokes, straight legs, flares, different top stitching, zippers or snaps. Some are pre-washed and others come in a light or dark denim. Greens and Jeans has all these for men and women in sizes 25 to 38, priced from $11 to $28.

The Spring styles are on their way, but in the meantime we did see a flared wrap skirt with grommets across the waistband and a wrapped dress with slash pockets and yellow topstitching, $23 and $39.95 respectively. You'll also find lots of coordinating t-shirts, shirts and sweaters to wear with whatever denim you choose.

For a change of pace, Diane has included a small group of gifts. Particularly attractive are the hand-crafted wooden bowls and cutting boards by Jerrold Marc Adler, about $10 each.

Greens and Jeans, located at the Pennington Circle on Route, is open Tuesday through Friday from 10 until 7 and Saturdays from 10 until 6.

AMERICANA FOR SALE

At Country Antiques. This is 1976, the Bicentennial year, and no matter where you look there are suggestions on how to commemorate this 200-year old event. However, rather than buy something new, why not visit Country Antiques in search of something authentic.

Understandably, with a young country at war, there is a limited amount available from the Revolutionary years themselves. However, owner Mrs. Eleanor Waddell does have pictures concerning this period, and furniture and silver from the years shortly thereafter.

From the early 19th century there is an engraved proof of John Trumbull's famous painting, "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." An interesting fact about this work is that Trumbull painted each signer individually before making the composite mural, located in the Capitol in Washington. Country Antiques' proof is in its original frame and costs $350.

There is also a set of canvas prints of Gilbert Stuart's portraits of George and Martha Washington. They are old, true in color and are in handsome oval gold leaf frames, $150 for both.

Many historical buildings such as Nassau Hall and Burton Parrish Church have been depicted in the etchings of George A. Bradshaw, a Trenton artist. They range in price from $65 to $150 depending upon the quality of the print and Mrs. Waddell's original cost. She said, "I temper things by what I pay. Not all dealers do this, but I think it makes my shop more interesting."

Nassau Hall is also part of a painting that Jonathan Fisher did in 1807 from a copper engraving by Henry Dawkins. The original, worked in soft primitive colors, is now located in Firestone Library. However in 1945, as a celebration of Princeton University's bicentennial, 500 prints were made. While only a few have surfaced, a framed one is currently on display in Country Antiques' window, $250.

Chippendale Nightstand. Mrs. Waddell's favorite piece of furniture at the moment is a country Chippendale pine nightstand with the original reeded legs, circa 1790, $300.

You'll also find here a very pretty 18th century Hep-plewhite drop-leaf table; a gold leaf Federal mirror with the original glass; and an arrowback armchair made in New Mills-Pemberton circa 1800.

Coin silver is Mrs. Waddell's specialty, particularly those pieces made in New Jersey.

I'VE SEEN THAT TREE BEFORE: And will again. This prize-winning sketch of the Mercer Oak will be painted, in white on a sky-blue ground, on the walls of the Community Liquors' warehouse, off Witherspoon. Part of the left of the tree will be on the building's front, the rest will wrap around the corner and face the parking lot. The oak, said the judges, symbolizes Princeton's history and its greenery, and the damaged shape of the historic old tree recalls its age and strength. The scale model has been entered in a Mercer County Bicentennial contest. The artist? He prefers anonymity for the present. Contest sponsors were the Arts Council, Chamber of Commerce and Mayor Robert W. Cawley.

Professorship in the Language, Literature, and Civilization of Spain. Prof. King, chairman of the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures from 1966 to 1972, specializes in modern Spanish literature.

Dr. Donald S. McClure has been named to the Russell Wellman Moore Professorship, the oldest chair in the Department of Chemistry. Dr. McClure, 55, is a specialist in electron spectroscopy who combines experimental work with theoretical interpretation.

Professor of English and Comparative Literature Earl Miner will occupy the newly endowed Townsend Martin, Class of 1917, Professorship, a general professorship not restricted to any particular department. Interested in poetry and poetics, Prof. Miner, 48, has worked in 17th-century English literature, literary theory, classical Japanese literature, and Japanese-Western literary relations.

Dr. Richard E. Quandt, 45, has been designated the first incumbent of the Hughes-Rogers Professorship in Economics. Dr. Quandt is widely known for his work in mathematical economics and econometrics, which he defines as the application of mathematical statistics to the particular statistical problems arising in economics.

EAT AT "THE DINKY"?
Shuttle Plans Move Ahead. The first meeting since the state offered to buy the dinky if people in the Princeton-West Windsor area would come up with a way to run it was held Monday night and the surprise of the evening was -- a restaurant.

Individuals and firms -- names unrevealed at this meeting -- are reportedly interested in running both the railroad and a restaurant, the latter in the present railway station at the foot of University Place.

The group that met Monday wants a package deal, or an "integrated system", in the language of Monday's speakers. Whoever operates the shuttle line must have available a means for running the train, maintaining the tracks and the parking lots at each end, and the restaurant, they decided.

Presumably the profits that would come from leasing the restaurant, added to the revenues from the parking lots could be credited against any deficits piled up by the train.

The next meeting will be February 16. Whether the state would be the lessee to a transportation authority, or whether a group of investors would be the middlemen are among options to be explored. Attending Monday's meeting were representatives of Borough, Township, the West Windsor Parking Authority and Princeton University.

In The News

Robert H. Arents, 210 Weldon Way, Pennington, was one of four Rutgers University Graduate School of Education graduates honored with the Distinguished Service Award recently. Mr. Arents received his Ed. M. in 1966 and is supervising consultant for school-industry cooperation in the division of curriculum and instruction in the New Jersey Department of Education.

Donald J. Mauer of Pennington-Titusville Road, Pennington, supervising engineer with the Department of Transportation has received the largest award to date in the New Jersey State Employees Suggestions Award Program. He was presented with a check for $8,450 for two suggestions, the amount reflecting the savings to the Department that his ideas generated.

Bruce Baky of Lawrenceville has been named an investment officer at the Bank of New York in New York City. He received his BA degree from Gettysburg College in 1965 and an MBA from Fordham University in 1972, having served in the Army for two years. He joined the Treasurer's Division in October.

Sarah C. Brett-Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Brett-Smith of 211 Prospect Avenue, and Arlane van Buren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul van Buren of 2 Greenholm, have been awarded graduate fellowships from the Rotary Foundation of Rotary International for the 1976-77 academic year.

Miss Brett-Smith plans to concentrate on African Studies at the Universite d'Abidjan, Ivory Coast. She received her B.A. from Radcliffe and expects to receive her Doctorate from Yale University in 1978 and to make college teaching her profession.

Miss van Buren received her graduate fellowship to attend the University of Strathclyde in Glasgow, Scotland, where she will major in architecture. She plans to combine architecture and social work with the practical economics of construction.

Susan C. Heinemann, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Heinz Heinemann, 52 Locust Lane, will have an exhibit of sculpture and drawings at The Fine Arts Building, 105 Hudson Street, New York, from January 31 to February 10.

A candidate for a master's degree in art at Hunter College, Miss Heinemann had a show at Artist's Space Gallery in New York last March and has written reviews and articles for Artforum, a national magazine. A graduate of Princeton High School and a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Wellesley College, class of '70, she has worked for the British Broadcasting Company and has attended Byam Shaw Art School in London.

Linda J. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses S. Johnson, 144 Birch Avenue, was named to the Dean's List at Lincoln University for the first semester. She will be working as an intern in communications with radio station WFIL in Philadelphia during the coming semester and expects to graduate in May.

Robert F. Schwenker, Jr. of Belle Mead has been named vice-president of Research and Development at Personal Products, a Johnson & Johnson affiliate headquartered in Milltown. Before joining Personal Products in 1966, Mr. Schwenker was director of chemistry and chemical processing at Textile Research Institute. Currently vice-chairman of the Planning Board of Somerset County, he has served as mayor of Montgomery Township and president of the Board of Health.

A feeling of physical well-being makes it possible to have intellectual alertness, enthusiasm, a good disposition, a desire to live, to achieve, and to be happy. Not all individuals in good physical health have good mental health, however, in most cases the better the physical health, the better also the mental health. How good is your health? We should all take better care of ourselves, including eating the most nutritious foods, getting the right amounts of sleep and exercise - if you feel better, you will be better.

The best tools for any job makes it easier to do. At FORER PHARMACY, 160 Witherspoon, we have the best tools to provide you with the finest, most up to date stock of medicines. NEW PRESIDENT NAMED
At Princeton Bank and Trust. The board of directors of Princeton Bank and Trust Company has announced the election of James Stewart III of Skillman as president and chief executive officer, effective February 1. He succeeds C. Barnwell Straut of Galbraith Drive, who has resigned as president to join the international investment banking firm of William Sword & Co., Inc., which opened offices this month at 22 Chambers Street.

E. Newton Cutler, chairman of Princeton Bank and Trust and chairman and chief executive officer of Horizon Bancorp, announced the resignation with regret and added that "Mr. Straut has agreed to remain on the boards of directors of both the bank and Horizon Bancorp, and we look forward to the benefits of his continued presence on those boards."

Mr. Stewart, who is presently executive vice president and chief administrative officer, joined Princeton Bank in January, 1975. Before coming to Princeton, Mr. Stewart was with Girard Bank in Philadelphia for 20 years. He has a broad background in commercial lending and new business activities and for three years served as senior vice president in charge of Girard's operations department.

"THE LIST"
First National Is On It. "The fact that the Federal Reserve Board classified us as a 'problem' holding company comes as a surprise," said Edward A. Jesser Jr., chairman of United Jersey Banks this week. The First National Bank of Princeton is a member of UJB.

The company's earnings for last year were 9.9 percent over those for 1974, Mr. Jesser pointed out. He said that over the past 10 to 15 years, UJB had loan losses of only one-tenth of one percent, compared to one-fourth of one percent throughout the industry.

A number of loans made by UJB's mortgage company "have experienced some difficulties," he acknowledged, but he added that in many cases, the properties were completed or almost completed, and are now on an income-producing basis which will allow them to be refinanced or sold.

C. Barnwell Straut

James Stewart III

Not only that, he continued, all this information was laid out before stockholders early last year, and the firm's candor was praised by experts in the field.

According to its statement of condition, UJB and its subsidiaries have assets of $1.8 billion.

UJB was not on the Federal Reserve list of 11 bank holding companies with "more serious problems."

BUFF THAT WING-TIP
At New Shoe-Shine Stand. A nostalgic yearning - and the desire for a gleaming pair of shoes - drew Tom Brophy irresistibly. Why not, he says he asked himself, set up a shoe-shine stand right here in the 3 Palmer Square store?

Princeton hasn't had such an establishment within recent memory of anybody around.

NEED A SHINE? Leo Briscoe will provide. Princeton hasn't had an uptown shoe-shine stand within recent memory, and Thomas Brophy---in regal splendor on that shoe-shine chair---decided his store would be an appropriate place for one. Mr. Brophy sells, after all, shoes.

work will be hand-done." "The atmosphere is nice here," Mr. Briscoe adds, looking around at all the new shoes. Potential customers. Mr. Briscoe will be on duty every day except Thursday and Sunday from 9:30 to 5. Price: 65 cents.

NEW PHONE BOOKS DUE
Next Wednesday. New Jersey Bell Telephone Company will begin delivery of the 1976 Princeton Area telephone directories on Wednesday, February 4.

The cover of the new directory is a salute to the 200th birthday of the United States and the 100th birthday of the telephone. The front and back covers are illustrated with faces of American heroes, mythical figures and everyday people using a telephone from a particular era.

The introductory section of the directory has a special feature containing 28 Telephone Tips to Save You Money, Time and Worry. The suggestions appear on pages 10 and 11.

For quick reference, emergency telephone numbers and hints for finding directory listings remain on the inside of the front cover. A map outlining the area served by the white pages of the Princeton Area directory appears on the inside front cover. The map also shows the names of the directories serving nearby areas.

Other topics covered include details on doing business with the telephone company, paying telephone bills, arranging for additional equipment and services and arranging for repair service. Tariffs and regulations concerning telephone service are covered along with information on what to do about obscene, annoying or harassing phone calls. Zip code information for the post offices included in the Princeton Area will be shown at the end of the yellow pages listings.

CONTRACT AWARDED
To Ingersoll-Rand. The office of Representative Millicent Fenwick (R., 5th Dist., N.J.) has announced that Ingersoll-Rand Research Inc. has been awarded a contract by the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Mines, for a total of $200,089.

The project will help develop underground continuous coal haulage concepts and design a continuous face haulage, with the work to be done at Ingersoll-Rand headquarters on Route 206 near Princeton.

TWO PROMOTED

At Gallup & Robinson, Two executives have been promoted at Gallup & Robinson, advertising research firm. John S. Garver has been elected vice-president of Gallup & Robinson, Inc., in charge of Special Projects, Production and Personnel, and Priscilla W. Pols, 145 Ewing Street, has been named vice-president of Princeton National Surveys, Inc., a G & R subsidiary handling all the company's field work.

Mr. Garver, who lives in Titusville with his wife Susan, graduated from Villanova with a degree in economics. He joined the firm in 1966. After service in Vietnam, he returned in 1970 and has held various positions prior to his current appointment.

Ms. Pols, a native of Princeton, is a graduate of Georgetown University School of Foreign Service and later studied at the University of Barcelona. She came to Gallup & Robinson in 1969 and became Field Director in 1974.

RECORD SALES SET

By 84 Lumber. Joseph A. Hardy, president of 84 Lumber Co., has announced that the firm set a sales record last year of $185 million. During 1975, 18 new stores were opened, including a number in new areas - Alabama, South Carolina, Oklahoma and Salt Lake City.

The company, which had 127 stores in its chain as of December 31, has an outlet in Pennington on Route 31. Its national headquarters are in Eighty-Four, Pa., just south of Pittsburgh.

In addition to the new lumber stores, 84 Lumber also opened 14 new 84 Junction stores in 1975. These are complete home centers designed to complement the existing stores with an expanded inventory of kitchen cabinets, bath fixtures, vanities, floor coverings, electrical, plumbing and hardware supplies. The 84 Junction stores are separate stores built adjacent to existing 84 Lumber stores.

In 1976, 84 Lumber will celebrate its 20th anniversary and plans call for the opening of at least 35 new stores. Ten new are scheduled for California, making 84 Lumber a national company operating coast-to-coast in 27 states.

MANOLOG IS CHOSEN

For Korean Project. Manolog, a Princeton-based consultant product design and marketing firm, has been commissioned by the United Nations and the Korean Government to investigate and develop Korean products for export to the United States.

In February, Odd Oddsen, director of manufacturing at Manolog, will begin the assignment with a six-to-eight-week visit with several Korean manufacturers to examine their products, equipment and labor skills. The anticipated outcome will be to improve Korean products in terms of American aesthetic taste and overall quality. Manolog will also help establish American marketing outlets for the Korean products.

Charles B. Anderson to its Palmer Square office. He had been previously associated with Clark, Dodge & Co. as a broker and investment advisor in Boston from 1963 - 1967.

Born in Sewickley, Pa. and a graduate of Princeton University in 1940, Mr. Anderson served seven years in the U.S. Army in World War II and Korea. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and their five children previously lived in Framingham, Mass., where Mr. Anderson was employed by the Roxbury Carpet Company from 1946 - 1963; the last six years as president and chief executive officer.

Since living in Princeton at 30 Fackler Road, he has been active in various charitable and civic organizations serving as an officer and director of The Princeton Youth Fund, Tiger Inn, Pretty Brook Tennis Club and The Friends of the Princeton Art Museum.

$250,000 IN PROJECTS

At Market Research Firm. Total Research Corporation of 1101 State Road has completed projects totaling $250,000 in the six months since it was acquired from U.S. Testing Co., Inc. by the Princeton Research Group, Inc. According to Lorin Zissman, president, the company has also contracted for research projects in excess of $500,000.

The scope of work has included such things as a measure of the training and education needs of computer personnel; a study to measure usage and awareness of the medical facilities of a large Northeastern state; and a study among employees laid off because of foreign imports. Mr. Zissman anticipates that sales for the first full year will be in excess of $1 million.

Total Research became a subsidiary of the Princeton Research Group on July 1, through an acquisition agreement with U.S. Testing. The principals in the Princeton Research Group are Hugh C. Hoffman and Peter R. Vroom.

NAMED FLOOR CENTER

By Armstrong Cork. Princeton Interiors, Ltd., 47 State Road has been appointed an official Armstrong Floor Fashion Center to offer shopping convenience, including decorator-trained salespersons, easy payment plans, and a written guarantee for materials and installation.

The store is committed to maintaining a spacious, attractive flooring department where the customer can page through eye-level leaf displays holding more than 300 patterns and colors. A special color-coordination display containing wallcoverings, fabrics, and paint samples permits the shopper to compare flooring selections in a variety of decorating schemes.

The Armstrong Floor Fashion Center program covers a nationwide network of independent retail stores

SQUIBB NAMES MANAGER

For Product Planning. Augustine F. Mosso, Cherry Brook Drive, Montgomery Township, has been appointed product planning manager in the product planning department of E.R. Squibb & Sons, Inc.

His assignment will be in the areas of anti-inflammatory and corticosteroid drugs. He will also be responsible for the development of in-house advertising campaigns, as well as working with outside agencies.

Mosso received his B.S. degree in pharmacy at St. John's University, New York. A licensed pharmacist, he was engaged in retail and hospital pharmacy before entering the U.S. Navy. After his service as a Navy lieutenant, he obtained an M.B.A. degree at New York University.

Prior to joining Squibb in 1969, Mosso was associated with Lederle Laboratories and Robert A. Becker, Inc. He has served as promotion manager, hospitals communications director and, most recently, creative services manager for the U.S. Pharmaceutical Company of E.R. Squibb.

OFFICER APPOINTED

By Princeton Bank. Princeton Bank and Trust Company has announced the appointment of Harold S. Corcoran, Jr., assistant vice-president in the bank's

To the Princeton community:

For many, many years, the Princeton community has lacked a service which we, at Brophy's, have now undertaken to provide: a professional shoe-shine.

We are asked every day, "Where can I get a shine in Princeton?"

Up to now, the answer has been -- "Nowhere".

But now Brophy's offers, as another part of our services, a genuine bootblacking service.

Why not stop in and see Leo at Brophy's on Palmer Square, and treat yourself to a shine? We hope this will help Princeton and its environs fill a need that has been felt for along time.

The price is 65¢.

*Sincerely
Leo L. Brophy*

ZONERS SAY YES
To Restaurant Expansion.
The gentlemen known as the Alchemist and Barrister have the Borough Zoning Board's permission to remodel and expand their restaurant at 28-30 Witherspoon so that it can serve 175 hungry patrons instead of the present 100.
At the same meeting on Thursday night, the board granted six-month extensions of variances to two other restaurants—Lahiere's, which plans to move into what used to be the barber shop next door, and Nassau Lincoln Associates, whose owner wants to install a restaurant on Nassau Street where a bowling alley has been for many years. The sign permission for Joint Venture, Hulfish and Witherspoon, was also extended six months.

The A. & B. were asking the Zoning Board for rear and side yard and coverage variances, plus waiver of off-street parking requirements. The restaurant's plans would increase lot coverage beyond the 40 percent limit in the ordinance, and would require 16 more parking spaces.
Architect Harvey Myer's drawings and plans showed a glass-walled enclosure of the present rear courtyard. An indoor spiral stair would lead to a new mezzanine above the present rear dining area, and the bar would be on that mezzanine. The front dining room would be eliminated, and the entire ground floor of the building converted to retail use.

The walkway, a segment of what has come to be known as "Chamber's Walk" because the Chamber of Commerce is developing it, would remain. Pedestrians could still walk from the Nassau Inn and post office, across the small Palmer Square East parking lot, through the gate, down the Alchemist and Barrister steps and along the walkway to Witherspoon Street.

Limit on Use of Glass.
Zoning Board secretary Jean Taube jolted board and applicant when she announced that Bernard Glover, Borough building inspector, had written a memo that afternoon warning that the glass-walled addition might not conform to the Borough's building code.
Barclay P. Malsbury, attorney for the A. & B., said the design complies with the new state building code. In the Borough's code, only 40 percent of a wall area can be windows. Mr. Myer shrugged and said he'd comply with whatever the building inspector required, using as much glass as allowed.

The application troubled John McGoldrick — elected chairman of the board earlier in the evening. An applicant must show "hardship", he pointed out, and he questioned the definition of that word.
Both the Alchemist (Walter Krieg) and the Barrister (Frank Armananti) told the board they were having economic problems, and needed to expand in order to survive and flourish. Mr. McGoldrick, himself a Barrister, said he didn't think that's quite what the zoning ordinance meant by "hardship."
Alan Chimacoff, the board's new member, observed that the new retail store would bring in money, thereby easing economic pain.
When board members asked why not convert the present music store next door into a dining area and add space that way, Mr. Myer and Mr. Malsbury explained that the property is uneven in levels due to the Witherspoon Street slope, and has a full stair-well between the front dining-room and the music store. Also, they pointed out, the property is small, 45.5 by 110 feet.

A front dining room and a rear bar-dining room separated by a kitchen — the present arrangement — is awkward, and inefficient they said. Mr. Chimacoff grinned and said the real hardship was suffered by a patron in the front dining room waiting for a drink to make its way from the rear bar.
Mr. McGoldrick agreed to these arguments and the board unanimously granted the requests. The question of glass in construction will be left to Mr. Glover and the building coes. There is enough parking within 400 feet of the restaurant, the board decided, in granting the waiver.

LAPLACA POSTPONED
Awaiting Witnesses.
Princeton Ventures, the developer of Charles LaPlaca's property at the end of Spruce Street near the quarry, did not appear as scheduled before the Borough Zoning Board Thursday night. The firm has asked to be put on the February agenda.
James Britt, Ventures' lawyer, said the expert witnesses he needs were not available for the January Zoning Board meeting. Ventures is seeking a conditional use permit for its town-house dwellings.

OWNING A BUSINESS
Is Topic of Women's Panel.
The second in a series of three seminars sponsored by the American Association of University Women and the Professional Roster will be held on Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 at 5 Ivy Lane.
The topic, "The Recycled Woman: Be Your Own Boss," will be discussed by eight panelists who either have their own small businesses or do free lance work. A representative from the Small Business Administration will give a presentation and answer questions.
Carolyn Wilson, co-director of the Professional Roster, will be the moderator. The panelists include Doris Allen of Princeton Piano Group, a

SECOND MEETING SET

By Solo. Solo, the newly formed organization for women on their own, which is jointly sponsored by the YWCA, NOW and The Women's Place, will hold its second general meeting at the Princeton YMCA-YWCA on Friday, February 6, at 8. Joanne Waxman, an accountant, will discuss optimum financial settlements in divorce and tax positions for all single women. Financial consultant Tess Kistler will discuss personal financial management, and Ann Medlock, a Solo Board member, will speak on the art of being dead broke.

Future Solo projects include a survival kit listing the resources available to women in transition, a study of the effects of New Jersey's divorce law reforms, a reference file on legal services, a task force to investigate the possibilities of Solo group medical insurance, funding of Solo programs, and refuge for families in physical danger.

Scheduled for future general meetings, which are held at 8 p.m. on the first Friday of each month at the YMCA-YWCA, are: March 5, Emotional Problems of the Family in Transition; April 2, Insurance, Credit and Consumer Problems; May 14, Second Thoughts on June Weddings; and June 4, Survivors Speak Out. The May session will consider the invisible marriage contract, where the bride and groom sign with the state as a third party, and the alternative marriage contracts presently being proposed by many couples. At the June Speakout, women who have put together fulfilling lives despite heavy odds will discuss the resources they have found in the community and in themselves.

Solo Board members Kera Herzog, Lois Shaffer, Carolyn Landis, Anne O'Brien, Shirley Stein, Sally Oppenheimer, Marian Copeland and Ann Medlock are arranging a February 28 workshop with other groups throughout the state who are also working on the legal economic and social problems of women alone. The groups will compare their findings and their methods of operating and make plans for cooperative action.

All persons interested in the problems of women alone are welcome to attend. Women wishing to join Solo may call the YWCA, 924-4825 ext. 22 to be placed in one of the many small groups that are being formed in the Princeton area to provide women with emotional support and practical assistance as they deal with the problems of being solely responsible for themselves and their children. People interested in offering their services are also invited to call Anne O'Brien at the YWCA, 924-4825 ext. 22 or Solo at 921-6514.

TEXTILES ARE TOPIC
Of Historical Society Lecture. The fourth lecturer in the morning series of the Historical Society will be Mrs. Doris Thacher, an expert on American Textiles and Embroidery of the 18th Century, who will speak Tuesday at 10:30 in Pierce Hall, Trinity Church.

Mrs. Thacher, a consultant on textiles for museums and galleries, is noted for her restorations of old textiles and has donated from her own collection to Winterthur and the Dearborn Museum. Her interest in textiles and embroidery started when she was a young girl in France and Germany and continued in this country where she married an American primitive antique dealer and began to collect, repair, and teach.

The lecture will be preceded by coffee at 10. Tickets are $1.50 at the door or at The Historical Society, 158 Nassau Street.

On February 10, Henry Lee Willet will speak on What's New In Stained Glass.

FAMILIES SOUGHT

By West-Windsor AFS. The West-Windsor - Plainsboro chapter of the American Field Service plans to host a visit from an American student for eight weeks during the summer and from a foreign student for the 1976-77 academic year and seeks host families for both.

The American student will come from any one of the 50 states and will live with a family as part of a Bicentennial exchange program. The foreign student will arrive during late summer and will live with a family and attend the West-Windsor - Plainsboro High School with a host brother or sister.

For information about the AFS program, call Sue Levine at 799-0694.

PUBLIC BOMBARDED
With Bicentennial Art Forms. The 200th birthday party continues. The quality of the celebration is mixed--unfortunately, most of the party is sponsored by commercial ventures hoping to capitalize rather than enrich. The bicentennial coffee can and shoe polish container pose a great threat to the many fine contributions by creating a cynical public bombarded by a combination poor taste and self-interest. Despite the many assaults on a nation doing its best to honor two centuries of survival worthwhile expressions of American Life continue to appear and enrich those who are willing to wade through extraneous bicentennial ballyhoo and focus on the positive forms.

Several Trumbull sketches in wash and line provide another view of the Princeton Battle and the death of General Mercer. Nineteenth century lithographs render similar scenes in a different style.
Maps that are delicately executed in color wash and fine calligraphy chart the French campaign in the colonies. Aaron Burr's death mask and a set of dueling pistols add still another element to this cross section of the role of the alumni of the College of New Jersey. Tools, letters official documents and currency of the period are also displayed.
The collection is accompanied by a clear, well-written text that explains and enhances the materials. The objects included and the well-documented notes make a major contribution to the body of knowledge that is helping the Princeton community to develop a clearer understanding of the role of the town and the university in the beginnings of this country.

The Princeton community has been fortunate in having more than its share of good bicentennial visuals. The area resources are extensive and the various community exhibition spaces have expended a great deal of thought and energy in developing quality displays.
This month, three area shows reveal different facets of our heritage in the name of the bicentennial. Historical, political and social elements are reflected through diverse materials and subject matter.

A direct connection with the revolutionary war can be made by visiting the Firestone Library Rare Book Collection to see the display "A Triple Volley." Printed material, paintings, prints, drawings and relics of the war and its participants are combined with records and testimonials to Princeton's influence on this nation through able alumni who helped to direct American beginnings.
The well-known painting, "The Battle of Princeton" by James Peale, is accompanied by less familiar renderings of the war in Princeton. A large portrait of Washington by Charles Wilson Peale includes Nassau Hall and the militia.

Clubs and Organizations

The Women's College Club will hold its annual Scholarship Dessert Card Party on Monday, March 1, at noon at the Unitarian Church. Mrs. R.H. France and Mrs. H.E. Kessler are co-chairmen for the party, which is the club's major fund raising event benefiting scholarship aid to qualified girls in the four secondary schools of Princeton.

The event is a group effort of the following area-chairmen: Mrs. J.W. Galiardo and Mrs. H.J. Avil, hospitality; Mrs. W.E. Reaser and Mrs. S. Zador, white elephant sale; Mrs. R.K. Olsson, raffle; Mrs. D.J. Boone, tables; Mrs. R.S. Willis, properties; Mrs. P.F. Leaper, publicity; Mrs. Robert Herron, reservations; Mrs. Barton Kreuzer, telephone; and Miss Claire Dye, acknowledgements.

Reservations are now being accepted by Mrs. Robert Herron, 921-1352. Tables may be reserved at $12 each; individual places are $3. Donations to the White Elephant Table are welcome.

The next meeting of the Drop-In-Lounge-at-Bet-Am is slated for Monday at 1, at the Bet-Am, next door to the Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street.

The program will be a panel and discussion titled "Intergenerational Communication in the Family: Concerns, Issues and Problems." Rabbi Melvin Glatt, Murray Reich, former president of the Jewish Center, and Dr. Carol Blatter, a licensed marriage counselor in New Jersey, will be members of the panel. Tea and refreshments will precede the meeting.

A potluck supper will highlight the February meeting of the Princeton Area Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae Club, on Monday evening at 7:30. The hostess is Mrs. Betty Buroff, 20 Duffield Place. Each alumna is asked to bring a favorite dish to pass, along with a copy of the recipe, which will be used to compile a cookbook.

For further information, call Mrs. Buroff at 924-5543 or Mrs. Mimi Westin, the club's president, at 799-2591.

Mrs. Mary Louise Zega, William Dodge, Robert Fass and Mrs. Cynthia Timmerman. The coffee will consist of a brief PTSA meeting, an introduction of the candidates and an informal question and answer period.

Mrs. Nancy Schluter, chairman of the Mercer County Republican Committee, will address the West Windsor Republican Club on Thursday at 8 in Maurice Hawk School on Clarksville Road. She will discuss "The Directions and Goals of the GOP in Mercer County" and will answer questions from the audience. The meeting is open to all residents.

Mrs. Carol Beske, recently elected president, will preside. A resident of West Windsor for 1½ years, who has been active in Republican affairs at the state and national level in Delaware, she is presently the Republican Committeewoman for District 6 in West Windsor and a member of the Mercer County Woman's Division. Other officers include Larry Borgman, first vice president; Nancy Hughes, second vice president; Tom Russo, treasurer; Peg Northrop, corresponding secretary; and Sally Webb, recording secretary.

Lawrence confine their art to the black experience. The Lawrence paintings, in watercolor and tempera, are genre paintings that reflect the influence of cubism. Bearden maintains the essence of African style in unusual combinations of paint and collage. Studies of migrant workers and their environment by Rex Goreleigh are accompanied by still life and landscape in oil and watercolor.

Jones, Delaney, Woodruff and Lee-Smith are more diverse in subject and style. They deal with many areas of life in their paintings and express stylistic and taste changes of their times.

At the Eye For Art. An international graphics collection reflects the range of stylistic and subjective innovation that has taken place in printmaking during the past two decades. Graphics have evolved from an art form that was in eclipse to a dynamic and fluid means of expression that is employed by an increasing number of artists. New techniques in the many print media have made it a flexible form for visual expression. The prints on view at The Eye For Art reflect the technical innovations in woodcut, lithography and the many intaglio print forms. Works in all media by French, Israeli, Mexican, American and Puerto Rican artists demonstrate multicolor printmaking, the use of calligraphy and the versatility of the media. Realism, non-objective works and the many digressions of expression in between are included in this display.

Tammany Hall, Richard Nixon and a host of familiar faces and problems.

Style is as diverse as content in this collection. Close inspection reveals the high and complex art that is involved. The contemporary works have been published in the New York Times, Newsweek, The New Yorker, Punch and the Philadelphia Daily News, as well as many other periodicals. Included are cartoons by Rube Goldberg, Draper Hill, John Huenergarth, Saul Lambert, Rob Lawlor, Jeff MacNelly, Henry Martin, Michael Ramus, Arnold Roth and Ed Valtman, together with diverse political prints from the collection of Tod Zapolski and The Eye For Art.

At the University Art Museum. The Art Museum is featuring "Fragments of American Life," an exhibition of paintings by seven black artists whose work spans this century. It is regarded as a bicentennial offering in that it represents a particular facet of American life and art. Although black artists, like other blacks were kept from the mainstream of American life, the work displayed reflects many of the stylistic changes that have occurred.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Here's an amazing fact about basketball star Kareem Abdul-Jabbar ... When he played high school and college basketball, the teams he played on had 187 wins and only 3 losses! ... In high school in New York, his team won 78 and lost 1, and in college at UCLA, his freshman team had a record of 21-0, and in 3 years of varsity ball, he was on the winning side 88 times and the losing side only twice.

Did you know that baseball star Joe Morgan made good on better than 87 per cent of his base-stealing attempts last season ... Morgan was thrown out only 10 times as he stole 68 bases in 78 attempts for a phenomenal record.

How's this for an oddity ... There was once a tennis champion who would switch his racquet from one hand to another so he always hit a forehand shot ... Georgio De Stefani, who won the French championship in the 1930s, NEVER had to hit a backhand shot because of his ability to hit the ball with the racquet in either his right hand or left hand!

I bet you didn't know ... that good students can get a discount on their auto insurance. It pays to study.

Tigers Follow Conquest of St. John's with Victory over Penn To Near Ivy Title—Fine Rutgers Quintet Due Here on Monday

Princeton's basketball team took a firm hold on its first Ivy League championship in seven years Tuesday night when it trounced Penn at the Palestra, 69-52. The decisive victory should boost the Tigers in the national rankings next week above the 17th spot they earned after their 58-55 overtime triumph here Saturday over St. John's.

The Tigers returned home from Philadelphia with six days in which to prepare for their long-awaited meeting Monday with Rutgers, which has been in the nation's top 20 since December and has been ranked as high as fifth. All 7,550 seats in Jadwin were sold more than two weeks ago but those unable to be present can see the game at 8:05 on Channel 9.

As they had so many times previously this season, the Tigers used a decisive lead painstakingly built during the first half to ride to victory. They left the floor at the intermission with a 34-18 advantage, led by 26 with 6:10 to go, and then settled for virtually the same 16-point margin they had enjoyed at the half.

Chief architect of the second one-sided triumph over the defending champions this month was Armond Hill, whose 26 points were exactly half of the loser's total. In matching his career high, the Tigers' co-captain also contributed half a dozen assists, led his team in rebounds and played a standout game on defense.

Tigers Never Trail. Holding Penn scoreless until almost five minutes had gone by, Princeton built up a 6-0 lead on two baskets by sophomore Frank Sowinski and one by Barnes Hauptfuehrer, and kept a tight clamp on the home team with near-total authority. With 8:45 left in the opening period, Bob Slaughter's field goal made it 18-8 for Princeton, and its margin thereafter never dipped below double figures.

Numerous turnovers committed by the Quakers combined with their poor foul shooting made Princeton's path easier. The Red and Blue missed seven of its first nine free throws and lost the ball 13 times in the first 20 minutes. The Tigers were charged with only three turnovers during the half and hit on all four of their foul shots.

Penn's chances for an upset were hampered by a brief bout with the flu that its top player, 6-8 forward Bob Engles, had over the weekend. Held to a lone basket in the first half, he contributed six more in the final period but lacked the stamina to play more than 25 minutes. In the Quakers' upset of Oral Roberts two weeks ago, he had hit for 29 points.

With Sowinski benched well before the intermission by three personals, Slaughter came on with one of his top games, supplementing Hill's great night with a number of fine offensive plays. He finished with 17, and Hauptfuehrer added a dozen to help keep the Tigers thoroughly in charge.

Lead Grows Bigger. With 10 minutes left, Princeton increased its margin to 21 (53-32) and then inched forward on a pair of free throws by Hauptfuehrer and sophomore Bill Omeltchenko and baskets by Hill and Slaughter. With 6:10 left, the Orange and Black led by 26 (63-37) and relaxed its defensive efforts sufficiently so that it was outscored, 15-6, in the remaining time.

Penn's total of 52, however, whittled the Tigers' points-allowed average down a fraction further — to just over 53 per game — and continued their tenancy of first place nationally.

Rutgers Has Fine Balance. Victor in its first 15 games this season, Rutgers has been impressive on numerous occasions, overpowering most of its opponents with a combination of speed, fine ball handling and excellent shooting. While the Scarlet plans to win by making more points in a high-scoring game, it frequently starts its defense in the backcourt with a grinding press.

Phil Sellers, a certain high draft-pick, is in his fourth year with the New Brunswick quintet and is now its all-time high scorer. He pairs with Hollis Copeland at forward; a 6-8 freshman, Jim Bailey is the center, and Mike Dabney and Ed Jordan are in the backcourt. Coach Tom Young also has several highly-capable reserves, headed by freshman Abdel Anderson.

Carroll's philosophy on defense will be awaited with considerable interest. Belief is widespread that no team can play man-to-man against the drive and speed the Scarlet displays, but the Tiger coach has brought his team where it is on a man-defense, using a zone only for brief variety or to protect one or more players

PHS Defeats Notre Dame for First League Triumph

After four tries, the Princeton High School basketball team finally nailed down that first Mercer County League win Tuesday afternoon when it defeated visiting Notre Dame, 58-53. The Irish had entered the contest with a 9-3 record.

After leading by as much as 24-8 in the second period, PHS saw its advantage chipped away until ND was within one point early in the fourth period and trailed by just two with 47 seconds left. Although the pressure and the pace were intense at the end, the Little Tigers refused to fold.

"We had them put away in the first half," said PHS coach Marvin Trotman, "but we lack that killer instinct. We got complacent, we thought we had it made and then we got into foul trouble. Overall," he summed up, "despite all the mistakes we made, the kids didn't give up."

From no field goals in his previous game, Junior

Oldham sank 10 of 17 shots to lead the Little Tigers with 20 points — high for both sides. He had 10 in each half.

Felix Brown added 16; captain Shawn Craig, who fouled out with 56 seconds left in the third period, had 8; Ian White 6, Robbie McPherson 5, Tommy Moore 2 and Mike Fuschini, 1.

When ND's Bob Burrell intercepted an inbound pass for an easy layup to bring the Irish within two, 55-53, it seemed that the visitors had grabbed the momentum. But Brown scored on a layup after PHS had passed the ball back and forth to break the Irish press — which it used the entire game — and PHS had some breathing space.

White intercepted a pass with 16 seconds left — missed the one-and-one shot — but then when Bill Schluter missed from the corner for ND, Robbie McPherson gained possession and was fouled with five seconds left.

in foul trouble. He may start man-to-man, hoping to hold down Rutgers' scoring while dictating the pace of the game and working for the good shot.

Rutgers has proved itself a great road team, recording 11 of its victories away from home. The only edge Princeton has in comparative records is its victories over two teams in the top 10 (Alabama and St. John's), a pair of opponents tougher than any on Rutgers' schedule.

ST. JOHN'S BEATEN

In Overtime, 58-55. After losing a nine-point lead it had painstakingly built up in the first half, Princeton was carried into an extra period by nationally-ranked St. John's Saturday afternoon in Jadwin but won, 58 to 55. The Tigers triumphed because they set the pace throughout the game and, in the final five minutes, allowed the losers but a lone point.

It was not basketball at its sparkling best, but it was without doubt one of the most exciting games in the long history of the sport here. After St. John's had erased most of its 9-point deficit toward the end of the first half, neither team led by more than four points during the final 29 minutes of action. Throughout the afternoon, the lead changed hands nine times and the score was tied on six other occasions.

Despite the fact that Princeton's offense in the first half was anything but impressive, the Tigers took a 30-27 margin into the dressing room. They shot no better than 35 percent, 50 percent averages credited to Barnes Hauptfuehrer and sophomore guard Bill Omeltchenko being pared way down by the unusual inaccuracy of Armond Hill, Frank Sowinski and Bob Slaughter. This trio of starters was a combined 3 for 17 — no better than 18 percent.

Hardly unexpectedly, it was the home team's defense that gave it the slim advantage, as it forced the Redmen into a dozen turnovers. But Princeton's tight guarding cost it 12 fouls to six for the visitors, and after trailing 25-16 and 27-18, they crept back to 30-27 at the half. The Tigers kept the ball for the final 64 seconds, hoping to set up one good shot, but failed to come close.

St. John's Takes Lead. Two baskets in the first 40 seconds after play resumed put St. John's in the lead, and it held the advantage twice more in the see-saw going but never again after Hill fed Hauptfuehrer for a real rarity, an uncontested layup, with 13:38 to go. The Tigers' problem was that they could not quite seize any of several opportunities to stay in front as the clock began to run out.

From the game's fifth tie score at 52, with 3:35 left, Princeton began to run down the clock. The strategy worked beautifully, as Hill finally drove down the lane for a layup with 59 seconds left and the visitors' hopes of retaliating were apparently foiled when they lost possession with 38 seconds to go.

The Redmen got the ball back, however, when Hill was called for an offensive foul and they drew even with 16 seconds left on a poor-percentage shot from 18 feet out that never touched the rim. The Tigers took time out to set up a play, but never really showed up with the goods. Sowinski's desperation shot from 30 feet out on the right side hit the backboard but not the basket.

As it had during most of the regulation game, Princeton dominated the five-minute overtime but never managed to put victory beyond St. John's reach. After Beaver Smith of the visitors and Hauptfuehrer traded free throws in the first 37 seconds, the Tigers ran a full two minutes off the clock before Hill worked himself into a one-on-one position against Glen Williams just to the right of the basket, beat him for a layup and drew a foul. The free throw he missed was one of four on which the Tigers failed to convert during the overtime round.

A charging foul on 5-9 guard Frank Alagia 20 seconds later removed him from the game and cost the Redmen a chance to draw even. With 43 seconds left, Hill was fouled but the visitors stayed within range of a three-point play when he missed the second throw.

Twice in the remaining time, St. John's threw the ball away trying to bring it down court against the clock. The lone point the Redmens made in overtime was symbolic of the Princeton defense that Pete Carril felt "ranged from excellent to superb," and the 55 points the losers managed reinforced the Tigers' hold on their no. 1 ranking in points allowed.

On offense, they were led by Hauptfuehrer's 20 on fine 8-for-15 shooting and 4-for-5 at the line. Hill with 13 and Omeltchenko with 11 were also in double figures as the Orange and Black shot a highly satisfactory 50 percent in the decisive final 25 minutes.

SKATERS WIN SECOND

Top Colgate, 5 to 3. Ability to break away from a 2-2 tie at the start of the final period gave Princeton's hockey team its second victory of the season Saturday night in Baker Rink. The Tigers put three goals on target, the last into an empty cage, to win, 5-3. Freshman Craig Tresham got the only score of the opening period at 5:27 for his 11th of the season, and Captain Dunc Fisher made it 2-0 early in the middle round. The visitors, seeking their fifth victory in 13 games, drew even at 2-all before the period ended.

Less than three minutes into the final session, a power play was climaxed for Princeton on a goal by senior Craig Dahl. The margin was raised to 4-2 at 5:57 on a shot by junior Kris Kollevoll but Colgate narrowed the gap with just under four minutes to go when the puck rolled up goalie Robin Rollefstad's arm and fell behind him into the cage. The losers pulled their goalie with just under a minute left, strategy that backfired when freshman Trevor Kilburn broke loose with the puck and hit the cage from just beyond center ice.

Rollefstad had a number of fine saves in the 20 that were credited to him. Outshot in the opening period, 12-6, the Tigers had an 18-11 advantage during the rest of the game, largely on a 15-6 bulge in the final 20 minutes.

Cornell was scheduled to play here Wednesday night in a bid to catch Brown and Penn in the Ivy standings. The Tigers will be at Providence Saturday against a fine Bruin team which has split with defending champion Harvard and beaten Cornell.

Next Tuesday will find Princeton facing Yale at New Haven in the first of two games which will probably decide which team will escape the league cellar. The Elis hold a 4-1, non-league victory over the Orange and Black, scored in a tournament at New Haven earlier this month.

LAWRENCEVILLE NEXT

For Princeton Day Quintet. They all seem to be "big" games for the Princeton Day basketball team this season, and this Saturday afternoon the Panthers will be involved in one of the bigger ones, when they take on Lawrenceville. The contest will start at 2 p.m. at Lawrenceville.

PDS has never beaten Lawrenceville in four attempts on the basketball court, and this may be the year. It will hardly be easy, the Larries always field a strong squad. Last week it whipped Hun by 20 points in Hun's gym to raise its record to 7-2.

The next week will find the Blue and White with three games in four days. A tough Pennington team, 11-3 on the season, will come in for a Tuesday game, followed by Morristown-Beard on Wednesday, playing the contest postponed from last Wednesday. On Friday, Peddie will visit the Panthers' gym for the third meeting between the two schools.

This Wednesday afternoon, the Panthers were scheduled to play St. Anthony's away.

Last week, PDS put one more in the win column, raising its record to 10-1, but it was not without a struggle. Playing Wardlaw away, the Blue and White had all it could handle in squeezing out a 64-62 triumph.

Coach Alan Taback was not particularly pleased with his team's defensive play, noting that the desire was there, but it could not make up for the lack of smartness on defense. Defensive mistakes led to personal fouls and PDS was forced to play the final six minutes without Randy Melville and Billy Martin.

Fortunately, their absence was more than compensated for by Steve Baker and Bill von Oehsen, who came off the bench and turned in fine performances. Both played well defensively and did not miss on crucial one-and-one situations down the stretch. Baker had four points, von Oehsen, six.

It was the Panthers' ability to convert on these that gave them the game. Wardlaw fell behind from the start and never could manage to get the lead back, although it came within one point, 51-50 with three to four minutes left.

PDS led 17-13 at the end of the first quarter, but Wardlaw closed to within a point, 29-28 at the half. The second half saw PDS again outscore the home team by a point to provide the margin of victory.

Bill Baggett led PDS with 17 points, and Frank Konstantynowicz, 14. Taback praised both his guards, Walters and Konstantynowicz, for playing a good floor game.

OPEN HOCKEY PLANNED

At County Rink. Open hockey has been introduced at the Mercer County Skating Center in West Windsor, the Mercer County Park Commission has announced. The twice-weekly sessions will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 3.

"The type of play will depend on the number of players who show up," said Rink Manager Rich Broadbelt. "If there are enough people, we'll organize teams. If not, the time can be devoted to practice."

TOUGH WEEK AHEAD
For PHS Quintet. The Princeton High basketball team, which lost 70-58, to Steinert Friday, will get no respite this week.

Friday, the Blue and White will be at Ewing for a 3:30 contest and Tuesday it will play host to top-ranked Trenton in a 3:45 game. This Wednesday evening, PHS was scheduled to play West Windsor at 8 in a makeup of a game originally set for January 20.

Asked to comment about the match with unbeaten Trenton (14-0), PHS coach Marvin Trotman smiled and said, "I hope they'll be kind. They're the class of the state, no question."

As for Ewing, which trounced PHS here, 71-49, earlier this month, Trotman said he felt his team had a chance to even things "if we can get our game back together."

Oldham Shut Down. Little went right for PHS against Steinert. For starters, Junior Oldham, the team's leading scorer, failed to make a single basket. (He connected on seven foul shots.) "It was a terrible time to happen; he couldn't buy a basket," said Trotman.

Then Princeton lost Robbie McPherson on fouls with 1:45 to go after scoring 16 points. McPherson is the team hall handler and when he left, PHS broke down completely. The home-team Spartans reeled off eight points in the final minute, causing Trotman to comment that the final score was not indicative of the game. "We were only down by four when Robbie left," he said.

Another starter, Dave Lacy, missed the game because of illness.

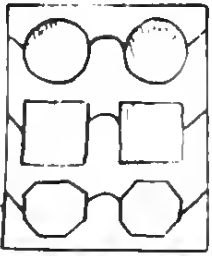

The Spartans, in turn, had one of their better shooting nights, especially from outside, where their two guards combined for 25 points. Falling behind, PHS, Trotman said, "tried to force the ball a few times and that didn't help us any."

Ian White took up some of the slack to lead the Little Tigers in scoring with 17 points. His previous high was 10. "He had a very strong game," said Trotman. McPherson had 16, Felix Brown 12 and team captain Shawn Craig, 6.

To George School. Rutgers Prep. For the second week in a row, the Hun School basketball team won one and lost one, defeating Solebury Friday, 70-51, behind Ron Payton's 24-point, 16-rebound performance, and losing earlier to Lawrenceville School, 73-53. The Solebury victory was a league win, where Hun is 3-0; overall it is 9-4.

SPORTS FUND PLANNED
As Memorial to George Ferguson. A memorial fund has been established in memory of George R. Ferguson, Jr. of 38 Crooked Tree Lane, who died suddenly on January 20.

Mr. Ferguson was one of Princeton's most ardent sportsmen and athletes and sports enthusiast. At his death, he was serving as Director of the Princeton Little League, on the Board of Directors of the Princeton Youth Baseball Association and was treasurer of the Princeton Midget Football League.

George R. Ferguson, Jr.
Program and was the prime mover behind the paddle tennis program. He won the 1976 annual invitation member-guest paddle tournament at Bedens Brook.

It is expected that both the baseball and football programs for Princeton youngsters will be key beneficiaries of the fund. Mr. Ferguson had been exploring, with representatives of the Princeton Lions Club and the Princeton Recreation Department, the feasibility of constructing a Little League field in Princeton.

He was also active in the Princeton Community Tennis teams in the next week, opposing George School Friday night at 8:30 and Rutgers Prep

Wednesday at 3:30. This Wednesday, Hun was scheduled to play Montclair.

Kimberly (formerly Montclair Academy) in Montclair.

Hun played well in spurts against Solebury, particularly in the second and final periods when it outscored the losers, 41 to 25. "Payton had a good shooting game," commented Hun coach Dave Leete, who added that sophomore John Brady also had "a good week, but we've got to get a little more consistency out of the rest of the guys."

Backing Payton in scoring were Nick Brady with 13 and Terry McEwen with 10. Tom Dillione added seven.

Bingo! "It was still a game in the third quarter and then—bingo!" observed Leete about the Lawrenceville defeat. Trailing by five at the half, Hun watched as the visiting Larries opened the second half with a 14-4 spurt.

"They started to run and didn't miss too many shots," said Leete. "We didn't get back on defense and it started to open up pretty fast. For the first half, it was a good basketball game."

While Lawrenceville was fast-breaking to a 56-36 lead, Hun was having trouble hitting the basket the few times it managed to grab the offensive rebound. The Red and Black connected on only 21 of 60 shots.

Payton paced Hun with 19 points, John Brady and Ken Duvin each had 10. Lawrenceville (7-3) was led by Pat Ehret and Jim Sweeney who combined for 43 points.

Larry guard Tony Trani, captain of last year's Hun basketball team, and holder of the school's all-time scoring career record of 1,301 points, contributed 16 against his former teammates.

PHS MATMEN LOSE

To Steinert. The Princeton High School wrestling team saw its record drop to 4-4 last week when it lost a 32-22 dual meet to Steinert. The Spartans had built a 29-10 lead to overcome two pins by the Little Tigers in the last three bouts.

The Little Tigers will play host to Lawrence High next Wednesday evening with varsity matches starting at 8. Jayvee matches will begin at 6:30. This Wednesday evening, they were scheduled to oppose Hopewell Valley in Pennington.

"Surprised and very disappointed," was the way coach Tom Murray expressed his reaction to the Steinert defeat. The Little Tigers received pins from Paul Soderman in the 170-pound class and heavyweight Nate Harris, both of whom are coming on, Murray reported, after slow starts. Dave Robinson won a 5-3 decision at 122 pounds and Steve Ebersole wrestled his second fine match in a row en route to a 7-4 decision at 148.

Both Matt Wilkinson, 101 pounder, and Dave Wilson (129) battled to draws. Both results were disputed by Murray who claimed each PHS wrestler had been denied two points he had earned during his bout. The rest was all Steinert.

Another surprise for Murray came in the 158-pound match when Jim O'Grady lost a 5-2 decision to an opponent he had defeated easily in the County Christmas Tournament. But Murray's acknowledged his biggest disappointment was the decision of Peter Kahn, his 115-pounder, to leave the team.

"That hurts us badly; I'm very disappointed he made that decision," said Murray. Kahn was 7-0 after the Christmas tournament and quit with an 8-2 mark. His replacement, sophomore Eric Tazelaar, was pinned by Steinert's John Patsaros in 3:04. Murray said that difficulty in maintaining weight and the press of school problems were the reasons Kahn gave him for leaving.

THIRD IN A ROW

For West Windsor Wrestlers. Amassing 36 points on six pins, the West Windsor wrestling team went on last week to defeat South Hunterdon, 44-14, for its third lopsided win in a row.

"We looked sharp. I was really pleased," said West Windsor coach Ken Bernabe.

WINS DECISION: Steve Ebersole, PHS 148-pound wrestler, won a 7-3 decision last week in the Steinert match. His was only one of two decisions captured by the Little Tigers, who lost, 32-22.

"We started slowly but then we took off. We really wrestled aggressively."

The Pirates will wrestle Florence Saturday afternoon at 1 at the Florence gym and Wednesday evening at 8 they will play host to Notre Dame. This Wednesday evening at 8, they were scheduled to meet Ewing in the Blue Devils' gym.

Last year, West Windsor defeated Florence, 38-17, and Bernabe feels his team "should do well" again this year. "They have a few good individual wrestlers," he said.

Starting with the 122-pound class, West Windsor recorded six pins next eight bouts at South Hunterdon Saturday. Keith Geisel started it, followed by Ernie Rich (129) who was leading 13-1 when he pinned his opponent; Scott Peet (135), George Noble (148), Rich Holcombe (170), who had a first-period fall; and Daryl MacPherson (188), who needed only 46 seconds to flatten his man.

Rudy Wellnitz (141) and Chris Holcombe, heavyweight, won decisions. West Windsor's final two points came when Mark Edenfield, 108-pounder, scored a reversal at the buzzer to earn a last-second 4-4 draw.

Trey Peck (101) and Pete Slinn (158) lost decisions for WW and Glenn Shipley (115) was pinned.

NEW LEAGUE PLANNED

For Women's Tennis. A Saturday afternoon Tennis League is being started for working women at the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center. It will be open to advanced intermediate players and try-outs will be held at the first session from 2:30 - 4:00 Saturday, February 7. For more information, those interested should telephone the center on Washington Road at 924-0015.

There are also openings for substitutes at all levels of play for the numerous weekday women's leagues now in progress. The leagues have been sufficiently popular — there are already ten different ones scheduled — that there are no permanent openings for the winter season, but signing up as a substitute is recommended as a way to try league play and to be in line for an opening next year.

Prizes will be awarded at the end of the season for the most improved player and for sportsmanship. Scores are kept for purposes of proper ability placement and self-evaluation, but the emphasis this year has been on providing an opportunity to play on a regular basis with one's own ability grouping.

HUN FIVE LOSES

To Peddie, 84-72. The Hun School basketball team, which has been having problems with the larger prep schools in the area, lost another one Monday when it dropped an 84-72 decision to Peddie in Hightstown.

The teams battled evenly in the first period but Peddie (11-1) broke the game open in the second quarter when it connected on 15 consecutive points to break a 22-22 tie. The Old Blue and Gold led at the half, 41-26. It was the victors' seventh straight win and Hun's fifth loss.

The Hun offense was provided by Ron Payton who had a game-high 25 points; Tom Dillione (16) and Terry McEwen and Nick Brady (10 each). No other Hun player scored more than 4.

Dave Hill, who accounted for 10 of those 15 points in Peddie's second-period spurt, led the victors with 18.

PDS SKATERS 3-5
Lawrenceville Saturday. A loser by just a one-goal margin last week, the Princeton Day hockey team will get another shot at beating rival Lawrenceville School this Saturday at 2 p.m. at Lavino Rink.

If they want to come away victorious, the Panthers would do well to emulate the style of last the Larries demonstrated play Wednesday at the PDS rink in achieving their 4-3 triumph. Right from the opening face-off the winners were flying, combining aggressive forechecking with hard hitting.

As has often been the case this winter, the Blue and White fell behind in the first period, and never caught up. Lawrenceville put in two first period goals and added another in the second, before Jeb Burns put PDS on the scoreboard assisted by David O'Connor.

In the third period, Lawrenceville made it 4-1, before PDS began to get its game together. Two scores, one by O'Connor and another by Bill Erdman, brought the count to 4-3 with more than four minutes remaining, but there the scoring ended. Again, a couple of untimely penalties had the Panthers skating short-handed until only 90 seconds remained. PDS outshot the winners 21-19.

The annual New England trip last weekend produced a split in the two games. Friday, PDS was completely outclassed by a fine Taft team, 11-1, but back on the ice Saturday just 12 hours later, it scored a come from behind 4-2 win over South Kent.

Bolstered by two Princeton players, defenseman Greg Matthews and forward Carl Erdman, Taft ran away from the Panthers in the first period. PDS managed to tie the score at 1-1 early in the first period on a tally by Tim Brush assisted by Burns and Jim Daubert, but the next 10 goals were credited to the host school. Goalie Rich Olsson had more than he could handle as the winners scored five goals on their first nine shots, and outshot PDS 31-5 overall.

The following morning against South Kent, PDS looked pretty shaky, as it tried to forget the drubbing absorbed the night before. Burns got the Panthers an early 1-0 lead on an assist from Olsson, but in the second period South Kent tallied twice to take the lead.

However, the third period was all Princeton Day. John Haraldson tied the score at 2-2, assisted by Mark Zwadsky and Mark Blaxill, and soon after Tim Brush put PDS in front, assisted by O'Connor and Murray Wilmerding. Blaxill put in the insurance marker with a few minutes remaining, with Haraldson and Daubert getting the assists, and the trip ended on a happy note.

Coach Harry Rulon Miller cited the fine play of his third line, Zwadsky, Blaxill and John Rodgers, and Haraldson, who filled in when Rodgers was injured. The victory lifted the Panthers to a 3-5 mark, but attaining the .500 level may not be easy.

A home game with Hill was scheduled to be played this Wednesday afternoon.

SOCCER UNDERWAY
For Winter League. Formal league play began Saturday in The Princeton Soccer Club's indoor program as over 130 youngsters were assigned to teams with which they will compete throughout the winter season.

Indoor soccer demands all the skills and techniques used in outdoor play but the nature of the game is somewhat different, since it is played in the more confined space of a gymnasium. The ball may be played off the walls and teams are required to play short-handed when a player is penalized.

The Club has established several rules in keeping with its own philosophy. All fouls result in an indirect kick, with the length of the penalties based upon the seriousness of the foul. A non-contact foul or hands carries no penalty unless it is in the goal area. The latter violations, as well as kicking the ball excessively high, result in a 1 minute contact foul goes off for 30 seconds, but one committing a violent foul or using profane language or unsportsmanlike conduct is penalized for 2 minutes.

All games in the junior and intermediate leagues call for six players to a side plus a goalie, while in the seniors there are five plus a goalie. Games are at Princeton Day School and Stuart Country Day every Saturday from 9-10:30 (Juniors); 10:30-12 (Seniors) and 1-2:30 (intermediates). Those interested in learning about indoor soccer or watching the sport are welcome to attend.

BRUINS UNDEFEATED
In Dillon Sr. League. The Bruins edged the Nads, 42-41, last week to emerge as the only undefeated team in the Dillon League Basketball senior Division. Nads and Lakers are both 2-1, one game behind.

Jamie Robertson, Kelly Robertson and Chris McDonald led the Bruins in scoring with 12, 11 and 9 points, but it was Dean Pannell's foul shot with 13 seconds left that iced it. Barry Turner had 16 points and John Rosenthal 14 to pace the Nads.

The Lakers managed to hold off a Tiger Inn rally to win their second straight, 60-55.

The Lakers, led in the early going by John Morris and Keith Phox, placed four men in double figures. Marc Kemen scored 18 of his 21 points in the second half to lead Tiger Inn.

Cottage Club won its first game by shading winless Braves, 45-44, behind the 20-point performance of center Chris Cahill. Roger Dinella also contributed to the win by converting 10 of 14 free throws, ending with 12 points.

Braves center Frank DiMeglio and Dave Johnson scored 15 and 11 points for the losers.

LIBBY BOLSTER THIRD
In Swim Meet. At an AAU "B" swim meet held Sunday in Lodi, Libby Bolster of the Princeton Aquatic Association finished third in the girls' 10 and under 50-yard butterfly. Her time was 37.4.

In the same meet, Robbie Hovsepian of the PAA, competing in the boys' 11-12 50-yard breaststroke, finished sixth with a clocking of 40.6.

A COMPLETE REAL ESTATE ORGANIZATION

A LOOK AT THE PAST

Henry Greenland was apparently Princeton's earliest settler, owning an estate (later known as "Castle Howard") in easterly Princeton. Although he was soon joined as a property owner by his son-in-law, Daniel Brinson, most of Princeton's origins as a town are from the westerly end toward Lawrenceville, with 1696 usually given as the date of Princeton's founding. A group of Chesterfield Meeting Quakers were among those who had settled in the woodlands bordering Stony Brook. These men, some of whom are familiar to us today in street names and other legacies, included Benjamin Clark, John Hornor, John Houghton, John Bainbridge, William Olden, Joseph Worth, Benjamin FitzRandolph, and Richard Stockton.

Princeton was first called Stony Brook, a name sometimes attributed to the Long Island community bearing that appellation, but the consensus is that it was named after the physical features of the stream.

By purchasing about 400 acres from Daniel Brinson and 4500 acres from William Penn, Richard Stockton became Princeton's largest landowner and, ultimately, most famous name as the grandfather of the Richard Stockton who signed the Declaration of Independence. In 1701 he started his homestead, "Morven" which, of course, continues today to contribute to the history of the state. The oldest house in Princeton is generally regarded to be Richard Stockton's prior home, a stone house on Edgehill Street known as "The Barracks" or the "Old Stockton House". "Morven" remained in the Stockton family for 7 generations.

Handsome Colonial on a quiet street in a fine neighborhood. Both the house and the neighborhood will provide much to enjoy. $74,500

Immaculate Sherbrooke Estates Colonial, with 4 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, fireplace, and central air. So convenient. $72,500

Nifty 3-bedroom ranch house in Princeton Township has a bundle of features and a most appealing lot. $75,000

An excellent buy today and one which will be even more appreciated when summer comes. It offers 9 rooms, 2 1/2 baths, 2-car garage, plus an in-ground pool surrounded by mature landscaping. Quiet street in a convenient West Windsor neighborhood.

Superlative ranch house in the Shady Brook area of Princeton Township has a host of desirable features. Four bedrooms, 2 baths, modern eat-in kitchen, family room with fireplace, central air conditioning, finished basement, 2-car garage, and 0.9-acre lot. $98,500

Gracious Colonial on a Princeton Township cul-de-sac. Classic center hall design with beautiful appointments. A delightful combination of charm and convenience designed for low maintenance. $127,500

Princeton mansion and a full Borough block offers a great deal of potential. Available for sale or rent.

A particularly good floor plan is one of the highlights of this 10-room, 2 1/2 bath Colonial in West Windsor. Among the others are a fireplace, central air, and finished basement $78,000

can you find

An eighteenth century dropleaf table. What our severest critic calls "A good honest country piece." Undoubtedly of some type of fruitwood, the color resembles Tiger Maple. It has six tapered Heppelwhite legs, was constructed by a master craftsman, and is in our corner window.

The signing of the Declaration of Independence, 1776, proof engraving by Jonathan Trumbull, center window.

A quilt with the Star of Bethlehem, and a Victorian child's crib quilt, known as crazy quilt. Hand woven coverlet dated 1839.

Any Shoemaker descendants? Small painted and grained box with coin silver plaque reading "Mary Shoemaker, presented by her son Benjamin" (alas, no date). Within box are Shoemaker memorabilia.

"The Reingold and the Valkyrie", first edition, Rackham illustrated (subject to prior sale).

Hopewell, N.J.

There must be a reason why Firestone Real Estate sells so many houses in Princeton 173 Nassau St.

Princeton, N.J.
609-924-2222

How could such a small firm set such a remarkable record? In just 2½ years, how did Firestone sell 48 homes in Princeton alone, and many more in the surrounding areas? There's a simple answer. At Firestone we don't just LIST a home — we find the right customer and SELL it.!

Country Contemporary in the Nelson Ridge Area of Hopewell Township

Just a few minutes from downtown Princeton yet hidden away in a private country setting is a fantastic single level contemporary with a creatively designed floorplan. At one end is a heated large indoor swimming pool with patio and sauna, while at the other is a delightful master suite that can be cordoned off for either long term guests or a separate in-law arrangement. Both the huge flagstone library-study and the family room have their own fireplaces while the kitchen and living room have a view of the pool. There are four or five bedrooms in all and four full baths. By simply renting out one room to a university student who might also cut your grass, you can live in a fantastic contemporary for the same monthly payments as you'd pay in a seventy thousand dollar home. Asking $109,000

Montgomery Rancher in a Picturesque Area

This exceptional Montgomery Rancher has everything you've been waiting for: a lovely living room with picture window, a formal dining room for dinner parties, a super convenient eat-in kitchen with a separate laundry room nearby and a warm spacious paneled family room with raised brick hearth. There are three bedrooms and two full baths in all, a two-car garage and a full basement for kids to race their big wheels. A must-see at a reasonable price. $66,900

A Charming Pennington Colonial on a Tree Shaded Street

This brand new Firestone listing is charming throughout, from the large living room with fireplace to the formal colonial dining room, with a neat modern efficient kitchen nearby. Upstairs are four delightful bedrooms and potential space in the walk-up attic for more, if it suits your fancy. Come sit on the large screened-in side porch this spring, and watch Pennington come into bloom. A cream puff at $59,500

In a Nifty Neighborhood in Ewing

This conveniently located rancher is brand new to the market, and shouldn't last long. Inside is a lovely living room, a separate formal dining room, an efficient modern kitchen, three bedrooms, and a full bath. Downstairs is a full dry basement with all kinds of conversion possibilities. Situated nine miles from Nassau Hall and just two miles from Rider or Trenton State. An exceptional value for $42,900

Looking for a New Home Near Princeton

Come see this exceptional center hall colonial in nearby Montgomery first. You'll save on all the improvements and hard work that go into making a new house a home. This five bedroom residence with lovely mature garden and 20 x 40 inground pool is a delight. Living room with bow window and picture window, formal dining room with chair rail, rustic family room or library with raised hearth and built-in cabinets, and many other extras in a superb setting. Think twice about moving into an already proven home with estate-like grounds and pool all for the same price as a brand new colonial. 77,900

On a Parkside in West Windsor

Parkside enjoyment with convenience is the keynote of our newest listing in West Windsor Township. This immaculately kept colonial offers a front-to-back living room, formal dining room, spacious family room with sliding doors to a patio, a bright and cheerful eat-in kitchen, and four comfortable upstairs bedrooms, including a generous master suite. Large in size, it is moderately priced. It's convenient to commuting on the Penn Central (eight minute drive) and to continuing education and fantastic recreational facilities at Mercer County Community College. Excellent public schools, a very pleasant neighborhood and a super location. If you have promises to keep, show her this house first. $63,500

To be Built in the Montgomery Woods on Two Acres

This two-story colonial sold in a few weeks, so our builder decided to build one like it on a lovely two-acre wooded lot nearby. The living room will have a large picture window, the dining room a chair rail, and the family room a warm log burning fireplace, while the kitchen will have all modern conveniences. Upstairs will be three big bedrooms and two full baths. Come see where we're going to build it today, and you'll probably find yourself living in it four months from now. Custom quality construction at development prices. $64,900

About to be Built on a Lovely Wooded Lot

This quality built ranch is about to be built on a beautiful lot in Montgomery Township. From the slate foyer, and raised living room with picture window, to the exceptional modern eat-in kitchen and family room with raised hearth, you'll find an exceptional layout and a tasteful use of materials. There are three bedrooms and two full baths in all, plus a two-car garage, basement, and many features you wouldn't expect in this price range. You won't find as much house elsewhere on a wooded lot at this price. $64,900

HENDERSON'S, OF COURSE

ANOTHER NEW LISTING - AND A GEM IT IS. Well-located 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths. Near Montgomery Shopping Plaza and Princeton Research Park. This exceptional home has an oversize family room, eat-in kitchen and overlooks an acre of beautiful grounds. Central air conditioning. Excellent value. $85,000

SOUTHERN CHARM IN LAWRENCEVILLE! Lovely brick and frame house with beautiful foyer, living room, dining room, kitchen, study, family room with fireplace and powder room completes the first floor. A circular stair leads to four bedrooms and two baths on the second floor. Some of the added features: a screened porch, mahogany sun deck together with professional landscaping and an attached garage. $72,900.

BUY OF THE YEAR!

On Cleveland Lane just off Raymond Road in South Brunswick (with its super schools): a modified colonial priced at a most realistic number in a most desirable neighborhood! It has a large living room, formal dining room, den with fireplace, eat-in kitchen, laundry room, four bedrooms, three full baths, full basement, two-car garage and central air conditioning. ONLY $66,900 ... UNBELIEVABLE, BUT TRUE!

AN EXTRAORDINARY SITUATION ON PROVINCE LINE ROAD, AND AREA OF EXQUISITE SCENERY AND QUIETLY ELEGANT ESTATES... built 20 years before its time ... exceptional construction, durable and divine wood beams and panelling throughout ... a free flow of rooms on both levels, two fantastic brick fireplaces, full windows and doors and a redwood deck off the upper entertainment area. Evergreens, dogwoods, and natural plantings are seen from every comfortable inside area. Resting on 8 secluded acres. $175,000

A HOUSE IN THE WOODS... Located in the desirable Riverside area of Princeton Township, on a superb, wooded lot, offering all the conveniences of a location close to the schools, shopping, the N.Y. bus, and yet the privacy one needs in which to relax. Living room, powder room, screened porch, master bedroom with bath, three other bedrooms - larger than usual - with hall bath, basement, patio surrounding a fenced in pool for leisure enjoyment and a two-car garage. Call us today to see it. $93,000

NEAT, TIDY NEW ENGLAND STYLE LINES ON THIS WEST WINDSOR COLONIAL. Walk to the train, walk to shopping, minutes from schools and "in home" business possibilities. A very interesting choice; in choice condition. Offered at $66,500

ROLLING HILL ROAD at the BEDENS BROOK CLUB ... just a chip shot away from the 17th fairway ... a spectacular contemporary by William Thompson, AIA, recently featured in a national magazine, for its extraordinary use of beams, windows and space. Vaulted ceiling in the living room over the fireplace and full wall of windows to bring the outside in! Heavenly plan for a small family with master wing off by itself! Every imaginable modern convenience is just a short step from the foyer with balcony. Please call for an appointment to see this masterful design. Just $149,500

DIVINE DESIGN AND DECOR. A fireplace with handcarved mantle highlights the ample living room with windows at front and back; adjacent to the inviting dining room a lovely panelled library has bookshelves, stereo wiring. A family kitchen of Quaker Maid design with functional shelves, lazy susans and all the other worksavers is off the porch, utility room and not too far from the two-car garage for grocery toting. There's a master suite with full bath; a second large bedroom has its own full bath, and then there are two other comfortable bedrooms and a full bath. The basement features a workshop, panelled playroom, wine cellar, storage closet AND SAUNA WITH SHOWER! COME SEE FOR YOURSELF!

INCOME PRODUCER: 4-FAMILY HOUSE BRINGS IN OVER $12,000 EACH YEAR. INVESTORS MUST SEE THIS BOROUGH MONEY MAKER.

THE "WOODVIEW HOUSE"

This marvelous, "giant" contains five bedrooms and all the extras you could ask for. A gigantic family room with many built-ins and a super brick fireplace. Extra large living room with formal fireplace. A dining room with chair rail and ceiling molding. A panelled library with built-in bookshelves. 3 full baths, 2 powder rooms and a full wet bar. Central vacuum system, concealed phone and TV wires. An enormous eat-in kitchen. Brick patio. Truly a superior home. $142,000
